The nurses and missionaries eventually reached the waterfront and escaped, but only after they had been subjected to the most vile insults.

Approximately One Thousand Attend Notable Gathering Here

Railroad Officials Attend As Special Guests—Many Features To Program

A throng estimated at nearly a thousand persons, by Charles E. Jenkins, chairman of the committee in charge, crowded the Knights of Pythias home on East Washington street on the occasion of the birthday party held last night by local employes of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in observance of the 100th anniversary of the railroad.

Scores of people were unable to get in and take part in this unique and most successful event. The affair was attended by a number of prominent officials of the Baltimore & Ohio and other special guests.

Charles E. Jenkins was chairman of the evening and presented the program, which was one of the best home talent affairs given in this city in some time. It included song and dance numbers, recitations, mouth organ playing, various instrumental selections and addresses.

Every number of the program of vaudeville was received with enthusiasm by the crowd, which packed the K. of P. hall, which was very prettily decorated in the national colors and with appropriate banners, etc., in keeping with the occasion being observed.

One of the features that brought forth very enthusiastic applause was the program of musical numbers presented by the Lady Engineer's Kitchen band.

Make Addresses.

Owing to the fact that D. F. Stevens, general superintendent at Cleveland, O., was unable to be present on account of being ill, his place on the speaking program was taken by J. Hewes, Jr., assistant superintendent of the Akron division. The other speaker of the evening was H. G. Kruse, superintendent of the Akron division. Their remarks were along the lines of the happy occasion being observed, the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Among the special guests present were O. E. West, chief of yards and terminal facilities at Baltimore, Md.; Emery Walton, superintendent of terminals at Willard, O.; C. F. Farmer, division freight agent at Youngstown, O.; C. W. Gorsuch, superintendent of transportation at Pittsburgh; Margaret Talbot Stevens, associate editor of the Baltimore & Ohio magazine at Baltimore, Md.; James Aiken, special representative at Youngstown, O.; H. A. Burns, traveling car agent, Baltimore, Md.; E. J. McSweeney, master mechanic at the New Castle Junction shops, and others.

At the close of the program, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all the employes, their families and friends and special guests, the prize cake contest was staged. The hundred small cakes prepared for the

Eighteen Months In Atlanta Prison Is Miller's Fate

Court Passes Sentence On Former Alien Property Custodian

Pathetic Scene Occurs In Courtroom As Sentence Is Imposed

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 8.—Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian during the Harding administration, today was sentenced to 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta and fined $5,000.

Miller was convicted last Friday by a jury of conspiring to deprive the government of his honest services through the approval of a $7,000,000 claim for war-seized Germany property. He was a co-defendant with Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general.

The jury disagreed regarding Daugherty, but found Miller guilty. The case against Daugherty was dismissed. The two former government officials were accused of having shared in $391,000 "fee" paid

City To Confer With Township On Sewer Plan

Councilmen Want To Know What Township Will Pay For Privilege

CITY SEWER SYSTEM MUST BE ENLARGED

Council Believes Union Township Should Share Cost Of System Maintenance

Council today authorized City Solicitor R. M. White to confer with state and Union township health authorities relative to Union township's plan to connect with the city sewer system.

And, at the same time, the councilmen indicated that they do not expect to permit the connection unless Union township agrees to pay an equitable share toward maintenance of the city system.

Solicitor White said that there is an implied purpose in the state act which would give the township authority to enter the New Castle system.

System Too Small

There has been complaints anent the local sewer system for years, it being claimed by many councilmanic bodies that the present sewers are not adequate to carry off New Castle's sewage.

Recently council employed an engineering firm to conduct a survey of conditions here and it is being conducted and may result, in the future, of an enlarged system.

However, councilmen, they indicated, do not understand why they should be forced to build a bigger system to take care of its own affairs then have the state permit an outside the city connection.

Councilman Genkinger, at the suggestion of vice president of council Burns, presiding in the absence of Mayor Dunlap, who is ill, made a motion that White "take up the matter with the proper authorities."

The motion passed unanimously and White will arrange for conferences with city, Union township and state health authorities and attempt to form some sort of an agreement whereby the city will not be the sufferer.

Property damage is enormous. Entire villages and towns have been destroyed. Virtually every population center in the province of Tango has been wrecked.

One American woman was killed when she was pushed into the bay at Kobe and drowned. This occurred when tourists of the steamer California attempted to get on the boat at Kobe.

Five of the crew of the California were also injured.

The town of Mineyama appeared to be the greatest sufferer. There, it was reported, 1,000 persons were killed when the quake struck. Several thousand were injured also.

Streets of the town are reported strewn with the dead, while terrified refugees fled the city for Miyazu.

Kyoto prefecture also suffered heavily, both in lives lost and property damage. The town of Ishikawa suffered the greatest loss. Ichiba and Yamada were also badly shaken. Many casualties occurred in all of these towns, but an accurate check of the dead and injured has not yet been made.

Suffering Rampant

Suffering is rampant in the stricken area.

Their homes destroyed, thousands of survivors are suffering from the frigid blasts of winter winds.

Aid is being rushed to them from all points in Japan, but it is feared that many may die of exposure before help reaches them.

Destroyers, carrying supplies and workers, have been sent to points along the coast. Other supplies are being rushed in over overland routes. Two brigades of soldiers have also been rushed to the stricken area.

PRINCETON, N. J., Mar. 8. — The student suicide wave claimed another victim today when Bruce F. Wilson, 20, of Louisville, Ky., sophomore at Princeton University, killed himself in his room at Hamilton Hall by drinking iodine and then hanging himself to a fixture.

Suspends Can Of Anaesthetic Over Bed, Drops Hit Handkerchief Over Face

Shell-Shocked War Veteran, Here On Visit, Ends Life

Suffering from wrecked nerves as a result of being gassed and shell shocked while fighting on the battle fields of France, Clarence W. Reagan, aged 44, World War veteran of Connellsville, Pa., ended his life at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. J. Montgomery of 526 West North street, Monday evening by the aid of an anaesthetic.

Mr. Reagan came to the home of his sister on last Friday, expecting to make her a short visit. It was noticed that he was extremely nervous and apparently absent minded. He told his sister that he had been unable to do any work, that he was unable to sleep, and that he appeared to be a nervous wreck. She told him that rest and quiet was what he needed and advised that he try sleeping as much as possible.

Monday morning when he got up he complained that he had not slept well, and about 11 o'clock went back to his bedroom, saying that he believed he would try it again. The bed room was on the second floor. Members of the family kept as quiet as they could during the afternoon.

Woodward Bill Encounters Snag

For the third time the measure was sent back to the committee on books and building and loan associations.

Michigan Students And Police Battle

(International News Service)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 8.—Three persons injured was the toll today of a free-for-all battle between police and 500 University of Michigan students.

Police quelled the riot with tear gas after four drives had been made on the doors of the Majestic and Arcade theatres.

The injured:

John Blakely, Rockford, Ill., a senior.

Marvin Slater, Ann Arbor, a graduate of the university.

Victor Westerman, a resident of Ann Arbor.

Follows Game.

The outbreak followed the Michigan-Iowa basketball game which Michigan won, thereby giving it the undisputed claim to the Big Ten conference championship.

The students first surged up the street to the Arcade theatre. Singing, yelling, hooting, they rushed toward the entrance but were turned back, as the management had a cordon of police waiting for the attack. The Majestic theatre then was selected as the next objective. There the students were met by a force of policemen armed with tear gas.

The students hurled bricks, eggs, sticks and all available objects but the tear bombs proved too effective and another retreat took place.

Again they rushed to the Arcade. This attack was dispelled without much effort. Finally, a few students made another assault on the Majestic but their efforts to gain entrance were frustrated.

The injured persons were struck either by the tear bombs or other flying missiles. Their injuries are not serious. No arrests were made. Police said they intended to drop the matter.

GIRL REJECTED HIS ATTENTIONS

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 8.—Enraged because his attentions were rejected, William A. Fuenfsteuck, 40-year-old Bethlehem butcher, father of five children, early today, police say, shot and killed Evelyn Hummel, 25-year-old stenographer of Bethlehem. Fuenfsteuck is alleged to have confessed to the crime after several hours of grilling.

The slaying took place as Miss Hummel was preparing to leave the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Buckalew here, where she had spent the evening. Fuenfsteuck, police say, had watched the apartment all evening and when the girl emerged, the butcher, his courage fortified by several drinks of "moonshine", shot Miss Hummel five times. She died almost instantly.

Fuenfsteuck fled in an automobile but was traced to his home in Bethlehem and arrested. He told police that he had intended to commit suicide after the shooting but his nerve failed.

Miss Hummel was a niece of Mayor M. Yeakle of Bethlehem. She had been employed for a number of years at the Bethlehem Steel company's plant near here, but gave up

National Educational Convention Reveals Platoon System Becoming General For Schools Of Nation, Says Dr. Green

Dr. Clyde C. Green, superintendent of New Castle schools reports that the winter meeting of the National Educational association which he attended last week at Dallas, Tex., was one of the best ever held. This meeting is known as the convention of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association and Dr. Green had the opportunity of meeting many noted educators as well as hearing many good addresses and conferences on educational problems.

It is evident, said Dr. Green that the traditional type of schools all over the country are changing to a more flexible type of organization. This movement is expressing itself principally in the platoon system which is becoming more and more general all over the country.

It is interesting to note said Dr. Green that New Castle was the third city in the United States to adopt the platoon system in its schools.

At the convention much emphasis was placed on individual instruction as distinguished from mass teaching. The guidance principle in education has been recognized with general endorsement.

Vocational education is a generally accepted principle throughout the country and received much attention at this meeting. It is evident however, from the discussions at the convention said Dr. Green that no one is able to speak of the details of vocational training with dogmatic assurance. Many adjustments have been made in the schools of the country in this phase of education and many more will need to be made before American educators can assume a definite program.

Dr. Green said that educational progress is moving so rapidly in this country that no school district which desires to be considered modern can be self-satisfied nor waste its time in self-adulation.

Yet in the midst of all this progress there is no tendency among educational thinking to neglect the fundamentals in any practical teaching. Dr. Green says that the "tool subjects" still have first place in the thinking of all safe administrators.

Dr. Green reports that the weather in the southern city was not as warm as they anticipated. The day of their arrival seemed a little warm but there was a cool tang to the air after that day.

Proponents Of Sowers Bill To Re-enact Fight

Measures Defeated In House Last Night; Seek Reconsideration

HESS MEASURE PASSES HOUSE

By ROBERT F. GORMAN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—Following defeat last night of the Sowers bill relating to search warrants and regulating their issuance and execution, proponents of the bill were today considering a move to have the measure reconsidered and replaced on the calendar. The vote on the measure was 91 to 96 against. Representatives Marcus and Steedle, Allegheny, voted aye on the bill and later changed their votes to "no". It was understood that they asked to be permitted to change their votes so that it would be possible for them to ask for reconsideration.

The bill brought up the first test of strength of the wets and drys in the House as Representative Moore, Bradford, contended the measure was designed against the prohibition enforcement acts.

The Hess bill providing for a township road commission of nine members to study conditions and make recommendations in second class townships was passed finally and sent to the Senate today for concurrence. The House has also passed the Staudenmeir bill providing for the government of boroughs which at the time of incorporation included territory in more than one county.

Among the other bills passed finally in the House are the Baily bill empowering townships of the second class to provide a supply of water and the necessary mains and connections; Flinchbaugh bill authorizing the construction of state-aid highways through and joining boroughs and incorporated towns; Ede bill providing for the compensation to be paid members of boards of viewers in fourth class counties; Williamson bill validating bonds issued or authorized to be issued following elections.

Charles Weintraub, Canton lawyer, yesterday refused to see Streitenberger when requested to do so by the accused man. David Kramer, another Canton attorney, declined to represent Streitenberger because of possible conflict with Mazer's case. Kramer is the only remaining member of Mazer's council, E. L. Date for trial of Streitenberger is yet to be determined.

Following this trial, and after appeals have been heard for Ben Rudner, now serving life in the penitentiary for complicity in the crime, Mazer may be set scot-free, according to report.

work. He was told that Reagan had been in his room all afternoon and was evidently having a good sleep. Arnold went upstairs and in passing the bed room door detected the odor of the anaesthetic. Trying the door, he found it locked. Forcing it open, he found Reagan lying on the bed, a handkerchief over his face, and a bottle which had contained the liquid on a dresser. A physician was summoned, but Reagan was dead.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell was then notified. Investigation showed that Reagan had suspended a can containing the anaesthetic from the back of the bed in such away that it could drop on the handkerchief. In his condition it is not believed that he was responsible for his act.

Deceased was the son of John S. Reagan, now deceased of Connellsville. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: H. K. Reagan, Connellsville; Mark Reagan, Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. C. Stillwagon, Connellsville; Mrs. J. R. Earle, New Philadelphia, O.; Mrs. C. J. Montgomery, West North street. The remains were shipped to Connellsville this morning for interment.

RENOVA, Pa., March 8.—Notice has been given employees of the Pennsylvania railroad here that effective with the close of business on Wednesday, they will be furloughed indefinitely. It was rumored today that about fifty employes will be affected.

Town Talk

Members of the city police force are today enjoying some of the best fruits of Sunny Florida. A box of oranges arrived this morning and the officers have been busy ever since, eating this fine fruit. They were wondering to whom they were indebted for this delicacy, when a letter arrived for Chief of Police Henry Dysart and it disclosed the fact that the oranges had been sent here by Dr. Dyer, who conducted a medicine show here for several weeks last summer. He stated that he sent the oranges in appreciation of the courtesy extended him by the police department of the city.

Little Robert Harold Kenna of 407 South Walnut street, aged two years, started forth this morning to explore the regions of the city and world as yet unknown to him and it was a frantic mother that called at the police station and asked that assistance be given in locating the little fellow.

She had hardly left the police station, when Officer Longstreth on looking out the window saw the little fellow coming across the East Washington street bridge and rushing out soon had him in charge. He took the little fellow to the police station and he was then taken to his home, where there was great rejoicing at his return.

by the foreign interests to obtain approval of the claim.

Miller, who has been free on $5,000 bail, was allowed to remain at liberty under bond, until appeal papers in his case are ready.

Pathetic Scene.

A pathetic scene was enacted in the courtroom as Miller was being sentenced. A motion for a new trial and a motion for deferred judgment were both denied by Federal Judge John C. Knox after an emotional appeal by Aaron Shapiro, an attorney of Chicago and San Francisco.

Shapiro, who fought in the army with Miller, begged, with tears in his eyes, that mercy be shown "my buddy, Tom Miller".

Emory R. Buckner, the prosecutor, arose and in a choked voice said:

"I am not fighting Mr. Miller, your honor. I am fighting for the underdog, as a matter of principle. By the underdog, I mean the poorly paid man in the government employ. If he were to be found guilty of a crime against the government he would not be shown mercy."

Judge Knox regarded Miller, who was sitting quietly with his wife, sympathetically, and said:—

"If it was within my power I would avoid this difficult and painful task."

Sapiro had in his plea for mercy for Miller stated that Miller "had taken the trial like a soldier, taken his conviction like a soldier and would now take his sentence like a soldier."

"The iron has entered his soul," said Sapiro.

Judge Knox called Miller before him. Mrs. Miller's eyes filled with tears and she bit her lips to control her emotions.

With a soldierly bearing Miller walked to the bar of justice. His face was expressionless as the judge pronounced the sentence.

BROAD HIGHWAYS.

A highway reaching from Detroit to Argentina is proposed. The idea is in a very early stage of development. A bill which probably will not become a law for three or four years was presented to congress. This bill merely provides for a commission to study the proposal. Such great projects necessarily move slowly.

An international highway from Cape Horn to Detroit could not be built without the closest co-operation between the United States on the one hand and a dozen Central and South American countries on the other hand. But in the very process of working out such an agreement as would be essential to the preliminary work, better mutual understanding would be created. A great international highway would make for international peace and good will.

Of course Detroit will not be the northern terminus of such a road, when it is completed. The great boulevard will go northward, through Canada and into Alaska.

Within the United States too there is need of a broad, permanent super-highway from coast to coast. The late William Jennings Bryan talked of such a project and called it a "peaceway." Mr. Bryan was something of a dreamer and his "peaceway" was laughed at and denounced lightly as a grandoise vision. But that broad and well-laid mail from coast to coast is a dream that is just as sure to materialize as the commercial prosperity of America is sure to increase from year to year.

* * *

When we talk of long-distance highways we have in mind merely improved roadways, surfaced sufficiently to permit of more or less continuous automobile traffic. But the great trans-continental highway of the future will be built upon deep foundations with heavy retaining walls along both sides wherever such walls may be necessary to prevent the roadway's spreading out under pressure. It will be permanent, requiring no repairing except where broken by earthquakes over periods of centuries. With the coming of gigantic trucks and passenger coaches for long distance runs, Americans will find it economical to tear out the best of the present highways to make room for the trans-continental super-highways that must be built to last forever.

IT'S THE MEN, WE BELIEVE

THE employment secretary of the Central Y. M. C. A. of Chicago, says that a college education is a hindrance, not a help, to a young man seeking a job. That, at least, is his experience.

Well, it depends, in the first place what kind of jobs he has to offer. In the second place, it depends on what kind of college men he had to offer.

Without any particular knowledge of the situation in Chicago, no one will hesitate to affirm that a college education never hurt the right kind of a man nor unfitted him for any kind of a job.

The wrong kind it may have helped or it may not. There are some men whom neither a college education nor any other kind of experience will do the least good.

Those same men who did not get the job because of their college education probably would not have gotten it for some other reason if they did not have the college education.

BABE RUTH'S $70,000

WHETHER or not the kingly salaries which figured in the headlines during the weeks immediately preceding the opening of the spring training camps in the south were phony money, Babe Ruth is entitled to get just a little the best of anybody in the great American game. He is the biggest drawing card of them all and adds more to the box office either in New York or away from home than any other nine players.

If the Bambino were a free agent, there are doubtless a number of clubs which would gladly meet his alleged demand for a salary of $100,000, and he has cause for complaint that he cannot sell his superlative services to the highest bidder. If his $100,000 claim was not a mere publicity grab, one can picture his disappointment when made to accept $70,000.

Still if the rules did not prevent a scramble for the best talent, one or two rich clubs would corner it, leaving the leagues badly off balance. After all, there must be competition in the game, else the public would lose interest and fancy prices for ball players depend upon sustained public interest in the national pastime.

Players as well as owners are interested in crowded grandstands and bleachers. The owners seem to have devised a system in the major leagues which enables them to distribute salaries large enough to make railroad presidents and governors green with envy.

Open bidding, among the clubs, for players being out of the question, the "holdout," that winter-blooming bluff of baseball, is the alternative for the Ruths and Cobbs.

HE WILL SUCCEED

DOWN in New Jersey the other day a twelve-year-old boy wanted to buy a five-dollar dog kennel.

His savings bank contained just a few cents more than three dollars. And he simply had to have that dog kennel.

So the lad trudged to a bank and told the president he wanted to borrow two dollars.

The president, no doubt suppressing a smile, asked him what security he could give. The boy gravely replied that he was going to get a job working after school.

So the president made out a regular three-months' promissory note, the lad signed it and the two dollars was given him.

"Industry and sincerity are security enough," the banker remarked.

We think the banker was right. And we also think that this boy is going to be a real success later in life.

Somehow, he sounds as if he were made of the right stuff.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:00. Sun rises tomorrow 6:22.

Along with a lot of other people we have had a habit of laying away old things which we felt that we might use at some future time. The wisdom of this course is now apparent, for among our collection of relics are a number of coffee sacks. Now all we have to do is to join two of these coffee sacks at the top, cut holes in the bottom, and we will have a pair of those new style pants which the college boys are wearing.

Out west a girl with bow legs found herself in a serious predicament as skirts grew shorter and shorter. She finally hired a doctor to straighten her shanks, but it seems that he couldn't get the crook all out, and now she has sued him for a large amount. This information is passed along for what it is worth to doctors who may be called upon to improve upon this particular style of Grecian architecture.

Authorities of Rhode Island have "an elephant on their hands" in the person of Nick Tartaglione, weighing 518 pounds, and sentenced seven months to jail for violating the prohibition laws. His normal meal is said to be five pounds of spaghetti, two chickens, four lobsters, a loaf of bread and a gallon of wine. The ponderous parent is the father of seventeen children, but happily the state of Rhode Island does not have to feed them.

It cannot be said that culture is not spreading when thieves take to discriminating among makes of automobiles. The higher priced cars have been forced to pay increased insurance rates in Chicago because luxury is pervading outlawry. A new standard of perfection is thus set up for the rest of us. Who would want to own a car that nobody would steal?

Somebody has been asked to extract a moral from a recent agricultural episode. A farmer hauled a load of corn to market and his wife took in fifteen dozen eggs. Each got exactly the same price for the produce, but while the man spent his proceeds for groceries, the woman bought three pairs of silk stockings. And this happened in a country where they used to say that the first necessity was a barn, and after that a house.

President Coolidge has moved out of the White House but will move back again in a few months. With the exception of one other man President Coolidge is the only man who has moved out and back again. All the other removals have been for good and for the good of the country. The other instance was President Grover Cleveland who was moved out and then went back four years later.

CALIFORNIA BEATS MASSACHUSETTS

California has passed Massachusetts and is now the sixth state in the Union in volume of its income taxes. At one time Boston was a sort of a round-up of the moneyed men of America, but now it appears that a lot of California folk are cleaning up a bunch of dough. Anyhow Uncle Sam seems to know all about it. He took more than $108,000,000 as California's contribution last year in this particular line.

THE REASON

He wonders why so many men
Have friends when he has none;
He wonders why, when folks are glad,
He never shares the fun.
He feels left out, and doesn't know,
That he's to blame the while,
The reason is not far to seek—
It hurts his face to smile!

He has a lot of enemies
He never meant to make;
He never stoops to trifles done
For simple friendship's sake,
He doesn't think small courtesies
Are really worth the while,
And when he does a generous thing
It hurts his face to smile!

The simple little things of life
That pleasure you and me,
He does not care to cultivate,
Too dignified is he!
He ran a race for office once
And lost by many a mile,
And never knew the reason was
It hurt his face to smile!

No little children ever dare
To climb upon his knee;
No strange dog ever leaps at him
With tail a-wag with glee.
Nobody ever tells him jokes,
He's lonely all the while;
And knows not what he's missed because
It hurts his face to smile!

A wisp of tulle to give it grace;
A flower where flowers go;

If Coolidge Declines.
If Smith Is Named.
Advice To Aristocrats.
Bees and Men.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Wise ones are selecting Republican candidates for 1928 "in case" Mr. Coolidge should decide not to run for a second electoral election, which his friends expect, that will end speculation. He'll be nominated.

But no one knows what the president will do until he does it. And willing candidates like to hope that his veto of the McNary-Haugen farm bill will make him decide against running again.

By 1928, however, farmers may have other things to think of. Wheat, cotton and pork may be feeling better. Everything changes from year to year. If you must bet, which you should not do, bet on Coolidge.

How would you make your list of probable Coolidge substitutes? Lowden and Dawes are conspicuous in the list of those who forget that farmers vote Republican anyhow.

Many would pick Hoover for his hard, efficient work on great national improvements and his capacity to deal with national problems. Millions of business men and taxpayers, big and little, would choose Mellon because of his work in after-the-war finance.

He has handled the country's chief business, finance, with great skill, reducing the national debts by many billions and simultaneously reducing taxes.

There are the usual dozen or more dark horses, some spending good money already, directed by ingenious managing exploiters. But they will probably remain dark. The winner is probably included in the above list — Coolidge, Mellon, Hoover, Lowden, Dawes — with Coolidge in a position to take it if he wants it.

No matter who takes it, it will be a very exciting campaign, or a completely dull one—exciting if Governor Smith is named by Democrats, dull beyond words if he is not nominated.

A man who owns many newspapers and knows politics says "Smith is the only Democrat that would have any chance to carry New York, Massachusetts, Illinois. Add the south, he would win."

Recently aristocratic Tories went speech-making on soap-boxes in Hyde park, competing with communists. Premier Baldwin says the Tory M. P.'s "knocked the communists right off their own pitch." One Tory drew a soap-box crowd of 2,000 away from radicals near him, and Baldwin says aristocrats should heed and talk oftener to the rabble.

Renan says the same in his life of St. Paul. He describes, in chapter 8, Marcus Annaeus Novatus, elder brother of Seneca, who took the name of Vallion, and was Roman pro-consul in Corinth. Hearing the accusations of Sosthenes, new chosen head of the Corinth synagogue, against St. Paul.

Gallion, a Roman of great culture and erudition, dismissed the case, haughtily telling Paul and Sosthenes he had no time to waste on their petty quarrels.

"He would have been wiser," says Renan, "had he shown less disdain. It was proved later that this quarrel of secretarians was the great affair of the century. One of the things that caused aristocrats to make serious mistakes in the superficial repulsion inspired in them by inferiors, and nearly always, without knowing it, they pass by the man that is creating the future."

Gallion saw "St. Paul only a wild-eyed radical, seeking to change human beliefs." The bees, polenizing flowers and blossoms, which have honey, think only of getting sugar, and sees none of the flowers' beauty.

You may say the same of our human honey bees of industry. They build up civilization, make wealth, leisure and culture, but they don't know it, or don't care. They also are only looking for sugar.

But, like the bee, they are doing the work for which the Lord created them, and that's sufficient.

Selfishness is the world's peacemaker. Britain, accusing Russia of stirring up trouble in China, threatened to end all relations. Russian newspapers, indignant, as men often are when the truth is told, suggested war, in a hurry.

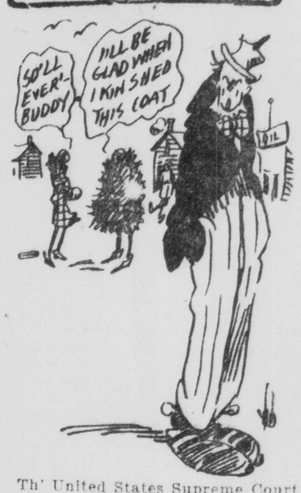

Lloyd George says no war will come of the talk. Russia and Britain will continue to do business, "because they need each other."

This country, also will resume official relations with Russia, after other nations have got all there is to get.

In Day's News

Following his custom, Oliver Wendell Holmes probably will celebrate his 86th birthday anniversary today by walking to the supreme court, of which he has been a justice since Roosevelt's day, and by occupying his place on the bench from which he was never absent once since his appointment until confined to his home by a slight illness during the past year. Being 86 apparently means nothing in Mr. Justice Holmes' young life. His resignation on the score of age has been rumored every time a political situation suggested that a vacancy would be handy to take care of some eminent political partisan, but Justice Holmes has gone on handing down decisions unmoved, and it is said to be his desire to break Chief Justice Taney's record of service. The latter was on the supreme bench when he was 87.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

WHAT CHRISTIANITY NEEDS

Christians in China are being subjected to the treatment that has always been beneficial to Christians. They are being persecuted.

Christianity has always thrived under persecution. It only needs a few well-timed deaths to give it impetus.

The blood of the martyrs has always been the seed of the church. This makes it pretty hard on martyrs, but it is a good thing for the church.

Heretofore they have been uniformly polite except for occasional instances and have been entirely too liberal-minded. Nothing hurts the Christian propaganda more than indifference.

Mr. Chesterton sees a distinct decline of interest in religion, thinking it is because religious people no longer have heated arguments over religion. He thinks that tolerance is a sign of indifference and perhaps it is.

Some one has said that no movement for the benefit of the common people has arisen anywhere in China except among the Christian missionaries. If that is true these missionaries ought to meet the fate of most progressives, and it is the rule that most persons who try to jog this old world forward a little bit are persecuted for their pains.

Ever since the day when Christ was crucified in Galilee the reformer has had hard sledding. People can stand most any sort of guilt among their great men, but they can't stand to be hectored by them. If anybody thinks this world is anxious to improve and mend its ways he has another think coming. This world wants to be let alone. It is very much of the mind and custom of the foolish boy. Spanking may do the boy good, but he doesn't like it. He may need it, but he doesn't want it.

So jerking the world along on its upward path may be necessary, but this earth is liable to turn on its benefactors and rend them.

WHAT APPEARS TO BE—

A hardship is often an opportunity to learn a valuable lesson.
A calamity can often be made a stepping stone.
Frankness is often a cruel desire to be brutal.
Prosperity may be only prodigality.
A reason is often merely an excuse.
Radicalism is sometimes a man's first efforts to think for himself.
The injustice of God is often the sheer ignorance of man.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AMERICA AND COPERNICUS

According to the foremost scientists of today, one of the outstanding intellectual acheivements of Man was the invention of the Central American Calendar in sixth Century B. C.

This calendar was developed by the Maya people, the builders of the great cities whose ruins are scattered over Central America and Yucatan. In their calender, these early American scientists calculated and recorded the movements of many of the visible planets with such accuracy that the calendar ran for over 2,000 years without the error of a day.

Not only did the Maya scientists develop a knowledge of astronomy that excelled anything in the world at that time, but they designed and used a place value of notation more than 1,000 years before the Arabic system of numbers was used in the Old World. Nowhere in the records of early civilization are found statements of scientific truth so clear and exact as were carved on their monuments and recorded in her books by the Maya scientists. They had nothing but stone tools with which to work.

In place of our instruments of precision for the study of astronomy, the Maya scientists constructed a base line five miles long which they used in the astronomical observations.

Their calendar was used from 500 B. C. to 1568 A. D. when most of their records were destroyed by the Spannish Conquistadors.

The Maya people were farmers and the knowledge of their scientists was used for the benefit of the farmer. Seed times and harvests were determined by their astronomers and carved on stone monuments—the first Almanacs.

Modern scientists are now searching the ruins of the great Maya cities for some of the ancient Maya books that may have escaped the Spaniards. It is thought the original books may give the key to the complete solution of the inscriptions on the Maya monuments and help solve the mystery of early civilization in America.

Just Folks

OPTIMISM

When Bill's barn was burned to the ground, he stood
As glum to see as the smouldering wood,
For his stock was gone
And his loss was one
He couldn't afford at that time of year,
And he stood around
On that blackened ground
Pouring his grief into every ear.
He cursed his luck till a month was turned
But the fact remained that his barn was burned!

When Jim's barn burned, he said:
"Gol darn!
There goes my stock and there goes my barn!
'Twas a careless trick,
And it makes me sick,
It's a dreadful plight that I'm in right now!
I'm mad clean through,
But I've work to do,
I've got to start building a barn, somehow.
I could curse my luck to the end of my days,
But never a barn roof that would raise.

"I'm not the sort of a grinning chap
Who asks you to laugh at each sad mishap.
I certainly frown
When my barn burns down,
I certainly grunt at each jolt and jar,
But the fact remains
I must bear my pains,
I must tackle my problems just as they are.
And the only cure for the things which irk
That I ever found is to get back to work."

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"A Strange Story," by Elinor Wylie.

Elinor Wylie (now Mrs. William Rose Benet) is one of the few poets living who have vivid imagination. Too many of our versifiers have a delicate fancy—and nothing more. There is a vast space between the two. In a poem like this the author seems to me to rise to the highest plane of artistic expression. She tells not only one life story, but several, in the small compass of six stanzas. It is a thrilling effect which she achieves.

When I died in Berners Street
I remembered well
That I had lights at head and feet,
And passing bell.

But when I died in Houndsditch
They would not lay me out,
Because they said I was a witch;
The rats ran about.

When I died in Holborn
In an old house and tall,
I know the tapestry was torn
And hanging from the wall.

When I died in Marlybone,
I was saying my prayers;
There I died all alone
Up four flights of stairs.

But when I died near Lincoln's Inn,
The small gold I had
Surrounded me with kith and kin;
I died stark mad.

When I died in Bloomsbury
In the bend of your arm,
At the end I died merry
And comforted and warm.

Mr. Rentz Writes Concluding Letter Of Southern Trip

Concluding his series of interesting letters during his visit to the south, Fred L. Rentz, President of The News Company writes of his visit to Jacksonville, Fla., and the scenes and people of that locality. The letter is as follows:

Jacksonville, Florida,
March 5, 1927.

George W. Conway,
Editor The News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear George: My last letter was dated Orlando. We left that place at nine o'clock Thursday morning and arrived at Jacksonville at 3:30 by train. We passed up the bus ride for the railroad at the last minute. I have return trip tickets from Jacksonville home. I bought the return for two reasons. The first so New Castle ticket agent could have the credit for turning in more money, and the second so I would be reasonably sure of getting back home. We noticed as we came further north that tropical trees, etc., became scarcer. It is about like May here now, in New Castle. Dogwood trees are in blossom, as are peach and plum trees. The weather is fine. Jacksonville is much like a northern city and the people here wear clothing just like we do in New Castle. You see no straw hats or Palm Beach suits here.

We are stopping at the George Washington hotel. It is some tavern. A radio in every room and fine drinking water from a faucet in every room, nice and cold. The radio equipment is used to page guests. When a person is wanted on the phone or for any purpose, the radio announces it in every room and dining room in the hotel. The radio can be disconnected if one does not care to hear it. One can find out about all who are at this hotel in a day by just listening to the paging. Just now the radio called for C. C. Robingson, who was wanted on the phone. I do not know if this is our C. C. at home or not. So far we have not met any New Castle people here. We have not been looking for any, or we may have hunted some up.

On Friday we visited St. Augustine, the oldest city in America. It was interesting to see the gates of the city, through which all had to pass in the old days on a pass before they could enter. I think that gates to a city is good stuff. Lots of people could be kept out of a city if we had that kind of a system in cities now. Only those who should be kept out, of course. The oldest house and the narrowest street in the United States are also at St. Augustine. Fort Marion is also here and is noted in history.

This morning we felt rich and took a taxi to the alligator and ostrich farm. It cost $1.16 to have the pirate take us to the farm and we came back on a street car for 20 cents. The taxi rates in the South are simply fierce. It costs about 70 cents to go a block. They say the cost is high because there is not much business. Fine way to get business.

We saw a lot of alligators and ostriches at the farm. An attendant got me to sit on a big 'gator while he took my picture, and the 'gator snorted just as I sat down. The attendant said the 'gator was harmless. It was about 11 feet long and weighed about 1,200 pounds. We have an idea we would have made a good meal for that baby, as we gained about 10 pounds while down here. We are off the 'gator for life.

We have been away from home nearly five weeks and so far have not missed a single copy of The News. This morning I got Thursday's paper. Of course, the papers have been sent to me first-class mail and special delivery. However, in St. Petersburg Walter Reynolds got his News by second-class mail 10 hours before I got mine by first-class mail, special delivery. It sure is a treat to get The News every day. It is especially so to me, so I can see what they are doing in The News plant. It all shows in the paper. They are doing fine, at that.

The South will have to wake up in some things. That is, the people of the South will have to get a move on in some things. It takes days to get express through, even in short distances. Mail takes days to get from one postoffice to another. I have heard hotel people say it was no use to send anything by mail or express, as it takes too long. We get mail and express between cities fast in the North. The hotels are not run like hotels in the North. Very few people around the hotels can answer the most simple questions. They either don't know or will not tell. Very little information on any subject can be had at the desk of any hotels I have visited. One has to look after his own trunks and hand baggage. There are always a flock of groveling menials around to carry your bags after you have them nearly at the desk of the hotel, but no information is obtainable from very many of them. I have heard more "I don't knows" in the last five weeks than I have ever heard in all my life before. The South must have people like me from the North and we will not come if we do not get something for our money. The South is a wonderful place and will be a great place when the people get wise to the fact that the people who are spending their money here wil leither have service or not come here. All who come here are willing to pay for service, but it's rotten when one cannot get it, even when willing to pay for it. I am not knocking, but you can bet we will have better service in our new hotel in New Castle than in most of the hotels I have visited in the South. The only hotel I have seen so far that has real service is the Hotel Fort Gatlin, managed by Charles C. Harry, at Orlando. Mr. Harry is a real hotel man and lived in New Castle many years and is well known there.

While in St. Augustine we had a drink of water from the Fountain of Youth, discovered by Ponce de Leon. The water tastes flat and we did not feel any younger after drinking it. Old Poncey did not discover much when he hit on that spring. The owners of it get 25 cents for every person who visit it. It's worth that to talk about it after one gets back home, as quite a few people have heard about the fountain of youth—also monkey glands.

According to the papers here there must be an active Chamber of Commerce doing business in this place. No one has hunted me up as yet and perhaps they do not think as much of Chamber of Commerce presidents as they do farther south. I sure did get a lot of attention on that account in all places I visited. I never visit newspaper offices away from home, as I have my hands full with the one I have in New Castle, which is also better than any they have in the South—at least I think so. If we do not get about a thousand new members of the Chamber of Commerce when I get back I will come to the conclusion they don't think much of their Chamber of Commerce president in New Castle. I wish this could be done before I get home. It would make me feel so much better to go home if that would happen, and it would be cheaper for me also, as I feel it is going to cost me quite a bit of coin personally before we get a thousand members in the New Castle Chamber. Just the same I would rather be an orphan in good old New Castle than be twins in any city in Florida. I have done better by doing all my investing in New Castle than a lot of people there have done by dumping their boodle into Florida. Believe me, I know.

We have traveled several thousand miles in Florida between Jacksonville and Key West and along the east coast and along the west coast and in the interior. We have been pictured in three cities and interviewed about a dozen times by newspaper reporters. This publicity has not benefitted us much, but it has put New Castle on the map in many places. This was all done on our own money and it wasn't even made in New Castle. This trip was financed by money made in many states in the Union. We are satisfied that the publicity we have given the greatest city in the world, and our birthplace, has done it no harm, anyhow. Travel broadens some people out and flattens others. We traveled by train, by ship, by automobile and by bus, and every bit of it was enjoyed, even the ship.

This evening about seven o'clock, while we were sitting in the lobby of this hotel, in walked John and Joe Schweikert. John lives here and Mr. and Mrs. Schweikert are visiting here for some weeks. We had a great chinning match for an hour or so. We were glad to see our old former Sheep Hill friends.

The Schweikerts told us Maily Mee and "his pop" were here. We are sorry we did not see them.

While we have seen a great many people in the South, there are many here we have not seen who belong in New Castle. We have not been able to hunt any people up and the only ones we have seen down here are those who have been around where we have been. Of course, a great many came to see us after they read in the papers that we were here.

We are leaving this morning for Washington, D. C.

Yours truly,
FRED L. RENTZ.

He is a native of Newark, N. J., and a graduate of the General Theological Seminary, New York City, and one of the increasing group of men identified with the Episcopal church in Pittsburgh, who were formerly connected with the diocese of Massachusetts.

Mr. Sauber is a classmate at the general Theological Seminary of the Rector of Trinity here.

The annual church meeting will be held Saturday evening, March 26, at 7:30.

Advocates Of State Welfare Bond Issue Take Vigorous Stand

By L. MASON REESE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—At a public hearing here today advocates of the purposed $50,000,000 bond issue to carry out a 10-year program for the state welfare institutions made a vigorous stand for the concurrent resolution, introduced in the senate by Sen. William C. Freeman of Lebanon and in the house by Rep. Philip Sterling of Philadelphia providing for the bond issue.

Speakers at the hearing dwelt on the existing conditions in institutions for feeble minded, insane and prisoners; the need of hospitals; the lack of adequate appropriations to improve these state institutions; effects of overcrowding institutions, and the cure of patients.

Medical Men Speak.

Opening the hearing with a few remarks, Senator Freeman introduced Dr. Everett S. Barr, superintendent of the Philadelphia hospital for mental diseases, who acted as chairman. Dr. Charles J. Frazier, noted brain surgeon and president of the Pennsylvania Public Charities Association, outlined conditions existing in institutions. He indicated that bad conditions were due to lack of adequate appropriations by successive legislatures.

Representing the council of Republican women, Mrs. Percy C. Madeira, Jr., of Rydal, pointed out the good that would come from the proposed 10-year program. Mrs. J. Gordon Fetterman of Media told of the needs of the feeble minded in state institutions.

Among the state organizations, represented at the hearing, which have pledged support for the bond issue were the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, Association of Directors of the Poor, Association of Trustees and Superintendents of State-Owned Institutions, State Federation of Pennsylvania Women and the Association of Superintendents of County Hospitals.

Better Business Bureau Endorses Road Project

Proposed Hard Surface Road Leading From New Castle To Mercer County Line Backed By Bureau

A very interesting meeting of the Better Business Men's Bureau of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce was held as a dinner meeting in the Elks club at 6 p. m. Monday March 7, with President W. E. Gordon, presiding.

A number of important matters were considered and acted upon. Among these was the proposed hard surfaced road leading from New Castle city line via Eastbrook, Rich Hill church and Volant to the Mercer county line.

B. F. Morehead, accompanied by Messrs. F. P. Simpson, J. J. McConnell, G. C. Walker, W. R. McKee and W. R. Walton met with those present and explained the benefits to be derived by this community by the building of this road, a bill for the construction of which has been presented to our state legislature by Hon. M. A. Bickett. If this roard be built it will be a great benefit to those living in and around East Brook, Rich Hill Church, Volant and the group of mines located in that vicinity as well as many other business interests who are operating there. After discussing this thoroughly the Better Business Bureau went on record as endorsing the project and promising their utmost support believing it to be one of the most important roads in Lawrence county.

A report was received on the results obtained by the merchants from Dallar Day held Thursday, February 17.

Action on the Bell Ringer campaign which has been before the club on several occasions in the past, was deferred until a later date and considerable discussion was held on promiscuous advertising soliciting in New Castle. It was reported to the club by the president and secretary that the community had been saved considerable money by their efforts along this line.

Those present at the meting were President, W. E. Gordon; C. P. Reynolds, J. C. Miner, D. L. Cole, Chas. Van Fleet, C. A. Donges, H. E. Bowman, E. J. Connery, J. C. Gordon and Secretary Chilton and the above named gentlemen appearing in the interest of the road project.

Further Plans For 15th Engineers

Committee Working On Development Of Company; Keely Reports Few Vacancies

A meeting of the committee named to assist in perfecting the plans for Company "B," 125th Engineers in New Castle, was held in the Chamber of Commerce room, 4 p. m., Monday, with S. P. Emery presiding. Those in attendance were: S. P. Emery, chairman; Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, John D. Kennedy, Ira M. Ramsey, Martin Graham, A. W. Chilton and John F. Walter.

The matter of securing proper officers for this unit and other ways of assisting it were taken up and thoroughly discussed and considered, and it is hoped that within a few days the plans may be completed to the extent that this company will be officially mustered in.

It was stated at this meeting that Lieutenant Keely had procured the re-enlistment of very nearly a sufficient number of men to give this company federal recognition. Anyone desiring to enlist, who has not already done so, should get in touch with Lieutenant Keely as soon as possible.

Record Crowd To See Rose Marie In This City Tonight

This is the night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, when the curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock on Arthur Hammerstein's celebrated musical success, "Rose Marie," and before the greatest throng of theatre goers that ever assembled in New Castle. The great auditorium of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, which seats more than three thousand people, will be filled, the advance sale of tickets being such that with the exception of a few general admission tickets for the second balcony, every seat in the house has been sold.

The company appearing here arrived at noon and is one that has been selected with great care and the personnel of the company, is equal to any that has ever presented the play. It is the same company that has been doing week stands in many of the larger cities of the country.

It is probable that the audience here this evening will be the largest single audience that the company appearing here, has ever performed before. With the inspiration of such a large and enthusiastic gathering of people and the beautiful auditorium of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, the performance may be expected to be one of the best that the company ever presented.

Pennsy Team To Play In Erie

Tomorrow evening the E. and A. division basketball team of the Pennsylvania Railroad will go to Erie where they will play the team of the Renova division on the East high school floor.

The local team last week won from the strong C. & P. team at Cleveland and if they play with the same vim tomorrow it is likely they will win and thus be eligible to meet in the Central Region contest next Saturday at Pittsburgh.

Legion Drive Is Progressing

Twenty-One New Members Are Reported On Monday

TEAM MEMBERS ARE WORKING HARD

American Legion membership drive of three days' intensive work made a great showing for the first day yesterday. Twenty-one new members have been reported by the different teams and it is likely that the first day will show more than that when all the teams have made their full report, says Ivor V. Davis, general chairman of the membership committee.

The various teams are interviewing ex-service men that have never belonged to the legion and find that many of them are willing to join up.

A large gain is being made on the Ellwood City post with which a contest is being held and if the remaining two days show the results that the first day has shown, the New Castle boys will undoubtedly enjoy a banquet at the generous hands of the Ellwood City boys.

Ivor Davis wishes to bring before the attention of any ex-service men who served during the World war that if they should not be reached during the drive by any member of the committee, that the legion would appreciate it if they would get in touch with the post commander, Harry M. Long, in the Johnston building. This is a time when every eligible man is to be given an opportunity to join and it is the intention of the committee that no one be overlooked, yet it is possible that someone may be missed when the records were made up.

Past Commander W. Wilbur McCullough gave a very interesting membership talk last night over radio station WKBU.

Mr. Davis wishes to call attention to the fact that the legion is offering very reasonable rates to the Paris convention of the legion, and that in order to become able to take advantage of this trip one must be a member of the legion.

Nobody has yet come to the support of Mrs. Ferguson's record with the plausible argument that she made the Texas penitentiary a respectable place in which to live.

NERVOUS PEOPLE ARE HALF FED

When you know you have nerves, something is wrong. A well nourished, healthy body should never even know that nerves exist, except for the sensation of feeling. But when your nerves jangle, when you jump at noises, or when you cannot sleep, it is Nature's way of calling for help.

Crying for Food

And it is almost always a safe bet that your nerves are crying for proper food. Your body is not supplying what is needed for the harmony of health. Chances are that the catarrh you have noticed in nose and throat has spread to the stomach. Then, no matter how much you eat, your system does not get the right nourishment. How can it, with the lining of your stomach inflamed and congested?

Because your muscles demand it, the nerves are put on half rations. They let you know it, too. What you need then is to get rid of the catarrh. Thousands have done that with World's Tonic. Not only is it recommended for catarrh, but it tones up the digestion, restores the balance in all processes, and builds you up. When that is done, you can forget you have nerves.

World's Tonic is sold by McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's, Smith's and all other good druggists. (213)

No nervous break-down Just Dandruff

Women who worry about their hair have just one thing to blame—dandruff! Not once in ten thousand times are dull, thin locks due to anything else.

It's the dead scale of dandruff, not waving or washing, that takes the life and lustre out of hair. You can prove this before you go to bed tonight. For you can be rid of every particle of dandruff. Just use the preparation that dissolves it.

Danderine is the one thing made to dissolve dandruff, and is the one thing that does! The one thing which gives dead hair back its sheen. And gives old heads a chance to let the new hair grow.

One 35 cent bottle of Danderine will put your scalp in the pink of condition, any druggist can tell you the reason, and will give you back your money if it doesn't!

REAL WARFARE IN NICARAGUA

These photos show that the warfare between Nicaraguan Liberals and Conservatives is no comic opera affair. The views are of Chinandega, 60 miles northwest of Managua. A city of 10,000, and once the capital of the three united republics of Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador, it was captured by Liberals after a pitched battle in the streets. Following the battle, a fire almost completely destroyed the city. Top picture shows gutted buildings on one of the important streets; lower picture, Conservatives behind barbed wire entanglements.

GONE ARE STEAMBOAT DAYS

"City of Cincinnati" and her route—the route made famous in story.

A half century or so ago, great river boats—"floating palaces" they were called—plied the Ohio and Mississippi rivers from Cincinnati to New Orleans, a distance of 1,531 miles. Stories galore have been told of the brilliant life on those vessels, of the gamblers and the beautiful women and the top-hatted statesmen, of the singing, dancing colored deckhands, of the bounteous tables, of good liquor and bad men. Those were the days of romance! Alas, all has changed. Where there used to be boats by the score all through the year, there now is only one passenger steamer annually making the round trip between Cincinnati and New Orleans—the side-wheeler "City of Cincinnati"—which has been puffing up the wide, almost silent streams on her return from the Mardi Gras. Towboats with barges of steel products and such are fairly plentiful, for the water borne tonnage is greater than ever—but the packets of story days are gone.

Kiosks for Coolidge

Kiosks for the guards that ever move about the President were constructed at 15 Dupont Circle, Washington, the temporary White House.

Young Bull Fighter

Manuel Jimenez, "Chicuelo," 22, reputed to be the world's youngest bull fighter, and who has made more than $2,000,000 already, is photographed on shipboard at New York, while en route from Mexico to Spain for the opening of the bull fighting season there. Born in Seville, Spain, he appeared in the bullring at nine.

De Valera in U. S.

Eamon de Valera, leader of the Irish Republican party, photographed in New York. He has come to the United States in connection with litigation arising from an injunction obtained by the Irish Free State, tying up approximately $2,500,000 of the Irish Republican bond issue of 1920-21. De Valera is former president of the short-lived Irish republic.

Makes Last Run

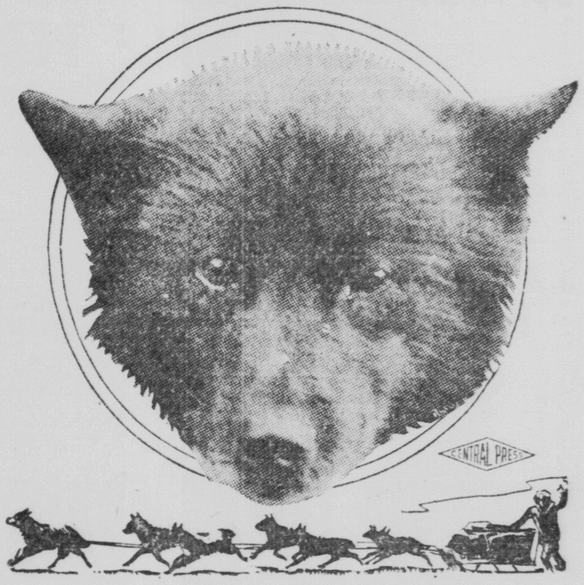

J. E. Carver, above, veteran railroad engineer of the New York Central, has made his last run between Cleveland and Toledo, O., over the route on which, 11 years ago, he established a record, running a special train the 101 miles in 80 minutes. His cab was filled with roses for his final trip. Carver began as a water boy at 13 and served 43 years as an engineer. On his record trip he carried a Cleveland physician to Toledo for an important operation.

RAISE FUND TO BUY HERO DOGS

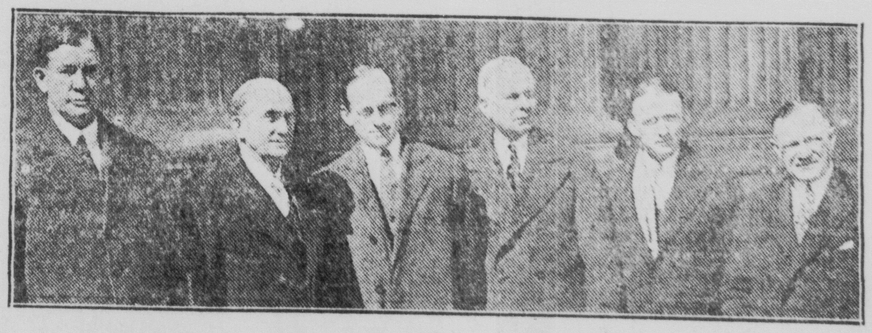

Balto, leader of the dog team which came to the rescue of Nome, Alaska, during the diphtheria scourge of 1925 by bringing serum through Alaskan snows, is to take up his residence in the Cleveland zoo, if citizens of the Ohio city raising a fund to buy him and his six companion huskies have their way. The dogs have been on exhibit in a Los Angeles street museum. An interesting pose of Balto is shown above.

HOPES TO SUPPLANT TURKEY

Taps are believed to have been sounded for the high priced Thanksgiving turkey. A competitor has entered the field in the shape of the "turken," the grotesque fowl shown above. The "turken," which by the way is a cross between a turkey and a chicken, can be propagated much more easily and economically than can his predecessor on the Thanksgiving board, according to Hugh Eyestone, of Arcolan, Ill., who has produced the hybrid fowl after several years of experimenting. It resembles the turkey in head and body but in size, comb, and wattles, it is more like the chicken. The "turken" is said to have as fine a flavor as the turkey.

Children need the whole grain for sound, normal growth

Child health specialists are emphasizing the importance of the whole grains more and more. They say that for children especially the highly-refined cereals are lacking in much that is needed.

That is one reason Quick Mother's Oats is such a valuable food for little children.

For the tender bran covering of the oat is left on, supplying just the roughage needed. With milk, it provides vitamins and minerals, too—now known to be essential for sound, normal growth.

50 years of experience have taught the careful millers of Quick Mother's Oats how to select the cream of the oats crop—how to prepare it without removing any of the valuable parts—how to make it finer, smoother, and always the same.

Two kinds — the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, good for jewelry, clothing, and many other handsome and convenient articles.

New Jersey Senator Angered By Failure Of Wets' Support

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, March 8—Congress adjourned with a rift a foot wide in the senate wet bloc's lute.

"Bah, what's the use!" cried Senator Edward I. Edwards, whose name is synonymous with wetness. "With out-and-out wets supporting dry measures, what chance do we stand!"

Edwards referred to Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and Copeland of New York, who had just voted for gag rule in the upper house, to force a ballot on the drys' prohibition reorganization bill. He referred also to Senator Reed of Missouri, who, being out of town, hadn't voted at all.

The New Jersey wet felt that Walsh and Copeland, as wets, too ought to have voted the other way and that Reed, another wet, ought to have made it his business to be on hand.

The thing that especially enraged Edwards was the narrowness of the drys' margin of victory.

It takes two-thirds to gag the senate, and the drys had only exactly the necessary two-thirds—not a single vote to spare. If Copeland and Walsh hadn't both voted dry, or if Reed had been present to vote wet, gag rule would have been beaten.

True, many wets thought the reorganization bill would do prohibition no good.

Its purpose was to create a new bureau in the treasury department, to take exclusive charge of enforcement activities, so as to end all overlapping and conflicting of authorities.

Such wets as Walsh and Copeland said the new bureau could do no better than existing agencies, so why not let the drys have it?—to convince them, if possible, that prohibition's unenforceable, even with all the governmental machinery they want.

"Bosh!" answers Edwards. "That's just a half-hearted wet's excuse."

The Jersey senator goes so far, in fact, as to impute a selfish motive to Copeland, for voting as he did, and to Reed, for being absent at so critical a time.

In short, he says the wets were beaten because of "New York and Missouri presidential booms."

This can imply only one thing: That Copeland, a booster for Gov. Al Smith of New York, was afraid to vote wet, lest he prejudice Al's presndential chances with the drys; that Reed was conveniently out of town, to avoid a possible puncture of his own White House boom by voting either way.

Plenty of politicians could be accused of straddling the wet-and-dry issue with no particular damage to their reputations, inasmuch as they tacitly admit that's what they're doing, and don't care who knows it.

But Al Smith and Jim Reed are not in this category

If Al and Jim, wet as each of them always has proclaimed himself, is trying to carry water on both shoulders now, the only inference is that he'd be willing to do 'most anything for the presidency.

Of course Edwards' explanation of Copeland's vote and Reed's failure to cast one may be all wrong.

Nevertheless he had the nerve to give it out in unmistakable terms.

It hurts. It hurts Copeland on Al's account. It hurts Reed on his own. They're r'aring mad at Edwards.

"Sure they are," agrees the Jerseyite. "The shoe fits, you see."

FRANKLIN GOES DRY, QUITS EVEN WATER, WHEN MAIN 'BUSTS'

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 8.—For more than five hours Monday washings went unfinished, hotels were without water and restaurants had to tell customers there was "nothing to drink" except milk.

POLICE HUNT KANE GUN TOTER

KANE, Pa., Mar. 8.—Police are seeking Carl Malloy of St. Mary's, who at noon fired two shots into the crowded lobby of the new Kane hotel here. No one was injured. Malloy had been ejected from the hotel a few hours before by the proprietor, J. C. Burns.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 437 N Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Thrills Galore In Ben Hur Scenes

CARMEL MEYERS

Metro-Goldwn-Mayer, in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld, Jr., offers the world's mightiest attraction at the Scottish Rite auditorium next Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12, in the celebrated picture version of "Ben-Hur" to which all New York has crowded for five months and which equally delighted Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia in as many record-breaking runs. This wonderful picturization cost $4,000,000, three years' time and the labors of 150,000 persons in Italy and California.

The picture heightens the powerful and melodramatic and love interest of the play, centering in the four romantic characters of Ben-Hur, Messala, Esther and Iras, enacted by Ramon Novarro, Francis X. Bushman, May McAvoy and Carmel Myers. One of the most thrilling scenes is the Sea Fight.

Structural Iron Workers Return To Their Work

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—With approximately 600 structural iron workers back at work in the Pittsburgh business district after a strike of one week's duration builders estimated the cost of their strike at $250,000 in loss of wages, carrying charges and other expenses. The men returned to work at the same scale in effect when they went out on strike.

Cement finishers and steamfitters, still on strike, will not immediately affect work in Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle, builders said, and they hope to bring the strike to an end before the men are in demand in large numbers.

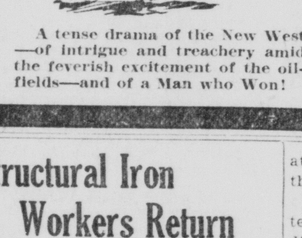

Nearly 1,500 men, employed on $20,000,000 worth of construction, participated in the original strike.

Gasoline Tax Measure Given State Solons

Motor License Fund And Counties To Benefit Under New Provision

MEASURE CARRIES COLLECTING POWER

New Bill Carries Two-Cent Permanent Tax And One-cent Additional Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—The administration bill providing for a tax of three cents per gallon on gasoline for the next two years is in the hands of the legislature today. The bill carries a provision for a permanent tax of two cents and an emergency tax of one cent additional for a two-year period ending June 30, 1929. At present there is a permanent tax of one cent and an emergency tax of another cent.

The new measure carries provisions for collecting tax on gasoline brought into the state by persons, firms, partnerships and corporations and intended for their own use.

New enforcement provisions are also contained in the bill, chief among them being one which would make gasoline tax due the commonwealth a first lien against the property of the dealer or consumer owing it.

Of the three cents per gallon which would be collected under the proposed legislation, one-half cent would be returned to the counties in which the tax is collected, the balance going to the motor license fund.

County Home Didn't Appeal To Woman

Aged Woman Found Wandering Around At Hillsville After Disappearance

Although the Department of Welfare of Lawrence County have done their best to make living pleasant at the New County Home, it is hard for some to believe until they see, said M. B. Hogue who has charge of this work.

Mr. Hogue tells how on last Saturday arrangements were being made to receive a woman of 76 years of age into the home. She had been making her home with a son-in-law whose wife had died some time ago. On account of her age she was becoming quite a charge and yet the man could not leave his work to take care of her, so Mr. Hogue decided that it was best to take her to the home and plans were made to take her out Monday morning of this week.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Hogue received word from the Hillsville district that an old woman was found wandering around there, and the description sounding like the woman who was to go to the county home, he investigated and found she was missing.

On going to Hillsville he found out his suspicions correct. She undoubtedly, picturing the home as some pen in the woods decided to run off but having had her fling she was quite willing to be conducted to the home and after looking it over decided that she was quite fortunate to be received into such a comfortable place.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 8.—Mrs. Earl T. Smith, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, is the mother today of an eight-pound baby girl.

Both mother and daughter are doing well, physicians reported. Announcement of the baby girl's arrival late yesterday at the Smith home was a signal for a general gathering of the Smith and Vanderbilt clans to get acquainted with the new member.

The wedding of Earl T. Smith and Consuelo Vanderbilt in January, 1926, was one of the big social events of recent years in New York.

Mine Conditions Will Be Studied

Data On Geological Formations Also To Be Studied In State

BY WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—A commission to study conditions in the bituminous field to further increase the safety of miners would be created by the bill of Senator Kunkle, Westmoreland up for final action in that body today.

The act empowers the commission to make an exhaustive study not only of conditions surrounding bituminous mining but to ascertain data on the geologic formation of the entire field.

The Kunkle bill is one of a score that will be voted upon finally at today's session. Fourteen bills up for final vote last night were either amended or postponed.

The one important bill on last night's calendar, the Marcus judicial salary raiser was sent back to committee on the motion of Senator Bonbrake, Franklin. Its passage in the senate and its veto by the governor has been freely forecast. Bonbrake's action was construed as the effort of the administration to keep the measure from reaching the governor's desk. It would add almost a million dollars a biennium to the cost of the judiciary.

The Woodward bill to prevent syndicated loans by building and loan associations again struggled from committee last night and again up for second reading today. Its recommittal last week was taken to be the final death blow.

The session today began at eleven o'clock.

Workmen's Compensation Rate Revision Sought

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 8.—The administration bill making an entire revision of the workmen's compensation rate are now before both houses of the legislature. The figures were reached after a series of conferences which have continued for two months.

To expedite action on the plan bills were introduced in both houses. They increase the maximum weekly payments from $12 to $15 and the minimum from $6 to $7. They reduce the waiting period from 10 to seven days. The total payments under the new bills would be $6,500 instead of $5,000.

Larger payments would also be given to families with children. The scale is based on the number of children of the survivor, either widow or widower. Provision also is made for the payment of six per cent interest to an employe whose claim for compensation is contested and later awarded. The interest dates from the time the claim is made until the award is given.

Organize Bird Club At Martin Gantz

A Bird Club started recently in the Martin Gantz school has been taken up with much enthusiasm by the fifth and sixth grades under the direction of Miss Evelyn Spencer, supervising teacher of the school.

The bird club is known as the Junior Audubon Society and is composed of the boys and girls of the fifth and sixth grades. Each month a meeting is held which is supervised by a president and secretary elected by the society. The purpose of the society is to accomplish for our bird friends what the National Audubon Society is doing all over the country. The children are learning to know birds and their habits.

The club has just been started and they have had but one meeting but already the children are able to tell many birds by studying the pictures and bird charts. A game is sometimes played in which the name of a bird is given and a child named must go to the chart and point out the bird without any hesitation.

In January the nests of birds were collected by the society and several nests were obtained among which were those of robins, cat birds, cardinals and song sparrow. Thus by collecting bird nests at this season of the year, not only are the abandoned nests useless to the birds but the feathered friends are not frightened. Yet a great lesson as to the way the birds build their nests is obtained.

Charts are also used for pupils finding new birds. When a new bird is found the report is placed on the chart telling when and where the bird was seen and the name of the pupil reporting.

Lessons are taught to the pupils as to what birds are useful and what ones are injurious to crops and fruit. It is wonderful how school children in general have learned about the great help birds and reptiles are in keeping down worse pests. Miss Spencer said that when it was asked if the class would like to see a snake that many volunteered to bring in one and for several weeks a small snake was kept and its life observed.

The boys of the society are entering a bird house contest which will be closed on Friday and the awards will be given on Tuesday, March 15. First and second prizes will be given by Miss Spencer. Judges will be present to judge the houses which the boys will have made.

On Tuesday at this meeting of the society the 4A class is asked to join with the others so that they may see of the work and be ready to enter into the society next fall when they enter the fifth grade.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

my doctor prescribed this wonderful Tonic

What Doctors Say

"I often have occasion to prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan, and have used it with a liberal hand, and am convinced of the good results."

"I prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan and think it an excellent tonic."

"I have given Gude's Pepto-Mangan a thorough trial, and it is unexcelled in simple anaemia."

Thousands of women are glad to be able to tell this to their friends and the reason is easy to understand. Doctors prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan because it is quick, because it is thoroughly efficient and because it is uniformly successful. Also, unlike the many unscientific preparations, it contains a special combination of iron and manganese in an ideal form which is pleasant to take and which will not disturb the most delicate stomach. It is one tonic that has had the endorsement of the medical profession for over 34 years.

Your own doctor will tell you all this and more, if you ask him. You can get Gude's Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's in both liquid and tablet form.

Scottish Rite Members To Have Mass Meeting At Cathedral Thursday

Invitations are being sent to every member of Scottish Rite Masonry in New Castle to attend a great mass meeting at the cathedral Thursday night of this week at 8 o'clock. At this gathering final details of the big completion financing campaign will be discussed, although there will be no solicitation of funds undertaken.

A program of entertainment and speaking is being planned. There will be community singing, as well as vocal and instrumental solos. It is expected that the principal speaker of the evening will be William A. Hart, vice president of the General Organization company of Chicago. Mr. Hart is a forceful and entertaining speaker. He has had years of experience as a community organizer and will be able to give the audience many interesting and helpful suggestions.

Speeches will also be made by Fred L. Rentz, Judge W. E. Porter, H. B. Richards, Robert McKinney White, John S. Wallace and Dr. A. W. Urmson.

Dinner Precedes.

Preceding the membership meeting a dinner will be given at 6 o'clock for the team organization of 100 men. Following this the workers will gather to select their prospects for the intensive week of solicitation, beginning March 14. H. B. Richards is in charge of the sales organization, with M. D. Wells and Jesse H. Gibson as his majors. There are to be ten teams. The captains of Mr. Wells' division are Paul Butz, Charles Andrews, James P. Toler, William G. Ayers and A. W. Chilton. Major Gibson's captains are J. Lee McFate, J. L. Calahan, James Evans, Earl Ramsey and George C. White. These men have nearly completed the selection of their team workers and it is expected their organization will be complete by Thursday.. S. Reed Megown, vice chairman of the campaign, in charge of the solicitation of major subscriptions, has already held several meetings of his committee and it is expected announcement will soon be made of the results of their preliminary work.

Reports received today at the campaign headquarters in the cathedral indicate that the chairmen in charge of solicitation in the other towns of the district are hard at work and that surprisingly good returns are being made.

Not only is the preliminary work of the campaign being vigorously prosecuted in New Castle and the surrounding territory, but members of the fraternity who are in distant parts of the country are being solicited by telegraph and letters.

Although America has led the world in the manufacture of safety razors and blades the Sheffield steel firms are finding a growing market for their blades in this country.

Overworked 'Human Adding Machine' Is At Point Of Death

OMAHA, Neb., March 8.—Omaha's "human adding machine," George H. Wood, 53, is near death today, physically and mentally exhausted by the strain of rapid calculations by which he won his sobriquet.

By a system which he described as "eliminating conversation from mathematics," Wood was able to add long rows of figures with uncanny speed and accuracy. Several times, in competition, he arrived at totals before experts did, using adding machines.

Instead of saying mentally "two and two are four," Wood read only the total—"four"—saving time by elimination of mathematical conversation."

Orchestra To Give Festival Here March 11

Largest Affair Of This Kind Ever Attempted In Ellwood City, Is Report

ELLWOOD CITY, March 8.—Hundreds of school children will take part in the orchestra festival which will take place in the gymnasium of the Lincoln high school the evening of March 11. The first festival, which was inaugurated last year, comprising 1,000 voices in the grand chorus, was so successful that Prof. O. E. Bartel, head of music in the local schools, felt encouraged to repeat the performance this year, the difference being that the orchestras will take a large part in the program. The instruments for these orchestras were purchased with the proceeds from sale of tickets for last year's festival.

A special matinee program will be given at three o'clock for the school children and high school pupils. The following orchestras will take part in the huge program: Circle, North Side, Hartman, Lincoln and Central buildings. Rythmic bands, made up of pupils from North Side, Circle, Hartman and West End schools, will also take part.

The program has been arranged so that each individual orchestra has its special duties to perform in the program, and at the conclusion of these numbers the symphonic whole will render the final number. Between orchestration numbers there will be solos on the various instruments and the senior high chorus, composed of 20 mixed voices, will sing a song they are to use in a contest at Geneva College April 1. Funds derived from this festival will be given to the board of education to further music in the local schools.

Postoffice In First Class For 1926 Receipts

Legion To Use Part Of First Floor For Lodge Room After July

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., March 8—Receipts in the local postoffice for 1926 amounted to $40,800 which entitles Ellwood City to be called first-class, although as yet no official notification has been received from the government, announced Postmaster Edward Christley today.

Owing to the cramped quarters the postoffice will be moved July 22 to more spacious rooms in the Luxenburg building.

When asked about the probability of a government building here the postmaster expressed the opinion that such a building will undoubtedly not be built for at least ten years. All new equipment will be purchased for the new postoffice as the equipment used in the present office cannot be supplemented owing to the fact that the company from which they were purchased has gone out of business.

The fittings will be sold by the American Legion Post owner of the building.

Winter's Colds and Chills

Throw Extra Burdens on the Kidneys

COLDS and grip create toxins in the blood that bring extra work to the kidneys.

When the kidneys act sluggishly, waste impurities remain in the blood and cause many unpleasant symptoms.

One is apt to feel languid, tired and achy, with sometimes nagging backaches, drowsy headaches and sensations of dizziness. A common symptom of imperfect kidney function is scanty or burning excretions.

Following winter's colds, many users rely on Doan's Pills, stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's stimulate the kidneys and thus assist them to filter off the cold-created poisons. Doan's are praised the world over. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. C. A. Curry, Graduate Nurse, 802 Maple St., Zeigler, Ill., says: "I have recommended Doan's Pills for twenty years and the results have justified my faith. I was bothered with backache, headache and dizziness and attributed it to my kidneys as their action was sluggish. Doan's Pills soon relieved me and I am glad to recommend them."

Frank Marks, 530 E. Chestnut St., Wauseon, Ohio, says: "My kidneys were sluggish and the secretions were scanty and burned in passing. My back ached and I had dizzy sensations. Doan's Pills proved effective and I continued their use until I was a well man again. I am always glad to recommend Doan's Pills."

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

PAID IN FULL

There are none so blind as those who will not see. The little Goat wanted to believe the brown thing floating in the water was a log, wished above all things to prove what a wise kid he really was and how stupid were the strange Boy and the lean Dog who insisted upon offering him so much unwelcome advice.

Had the little Goat not been looking through the mist of his own ignorance and self-conceit he would have seen a sight that would have made him change his mind.

There was a slight, a very slight movement of the brown thing in the water, a few more ripples widened toward the shore, the end of the "log" that was furthest away from him suddenly and strangely took the form of a long snout, and one watching carefully would have glimpsed above this snout two gleaming jewels—eyes alight with cruel glee. A second only! Then the eyes were hidden beneath heavy lids, the snout lost its form in the water and the brown thing was motionless as before.

None of this did the little Goat catch sight of. On he rushed, pell-mell, bound to have his own way before the Boy and the Dog could stop him. Between the bank and the brown thing flowed a foot or two of river.

"Aaaah!" bleated the little Goat. "Water shall not stop me. It may be deep, but even should I fall in, I can climb out again with the log to cling to." The little Goat gathered his four legs together, jumped and fell kerplunk into the water.

"Oh!" gasped Petares, and "Grrr!" growled the lean Dog. And then the expected happened.

Up came the little Goat gasping for air, his frightened eyes searching for the friendly log. In place of the friendly log he found himself face to face with a terrible monster. A great mouth wide open, sharp teeth bared, was coming nearer to him—nearer! nearer!

IN PLACE OF THE FRIENDLY LOG HE FOUND HIMSELF FACE TO FACE WITH A TERRIBLE MONSTER.

"Aaaah!" bleated the little Goat. "It is indeed a Crocodile!"

But knowledge came to the little Goat too late to save him. The wide open mouth, with the sharp, long teeth, snapped shut!

In the river there was no longer any little Goat—only a Crocodile, his hunger satisfied, swimming slowly down stream.

The runaway kid who had known it all had paid in full—with his life—for his folly!

DINNER STORIES

SCOTCH THRIFT

An excited crowd of Aberdonians had gathered in the railway refreshment room and were discussing a rumor that the London-Aberdeen express had been involved in a serious accident.

"Dear me", exclaimed a man standing nearby, "this is a verra bad business. My wife was on that train."

As he turned away a newsboy entered the room selling a special edition containing the news.

"Here", cried someone to the man whose wife was on the train, "aren't ye goin' tae buy a paper and get the details?"

"Na, na", replied the other. "I'll wait for the final edition and get th' racing results as weel."

WHY THE DELAY?

It had been a quiet evening. She had despaired of the young man making any demonstration; he seemed very timid.

Suddenly a passing machine backfired loudly and the young man jumped.

"My!" he exclaimed. "What a start that gave me!"

"Well", she asked scornfully. "How come you stopped?"

"Does your husband have a den of his own?" the author's wife was asked.

"No", replied the sorely tried spouse; "he roars all over the house."

A BIT NERVE-RACKING

"Your master is decidedly better, Thompson, but very irritable", said his lordship's doctor as he paused upon the threshold. "He must not be thwarted."

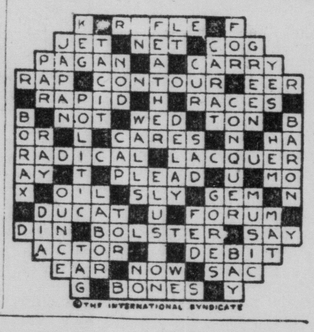

"He expressed a desire to wring my neck, sir", stammered the butler anxiously.

"Well—er—humor him", smiled the doctor as he went.

RICK-OVERLANDS DEFEAT TIN MILL 35 TO 14

Annex Title In Play-Off Game

Overlands Capture Second Half Of League Championship By Fine Victory

ANOTHER GAME TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Rick-Overland quintet captured the championship of the second-half of the City Industrial League schedule, by their 35 to 14 victory over the Tin Mill team in the play-off game at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday night. The victory of the Overlands was a complete upset of the dope.

The Overland boys played a brilliant game to defeat the strong Tin Mill passers. The team-work displayed by the winners was the best seen on the local court this year and after the first few minutes of play the Tin Mill boys were content to rest on their defense.

Fraser Missing

The Tin Mill team was slightly handicapped on Monday night by the absence of Arnold "Fiz" Fraser from the lineup. Fraser declined to play owing to the illness of his young son. Without the services of Fraser the Tin Mill team appeared bewildered and also lacked the necessary pep and dash, that has characterized their work to date.

The Overlands went into the lead at the very outset of the game and never relinquished their lead. The score at the end of the first quarter was 11 to 3 with the Overlands in the lead. The Tin Mill boys spruced up somewhat in the second quarter and scored seven points to eight for the Overlands. The score at half time favored the Overlands 19 to 10. Kirker and Uhle led the attack for the Overlands in the first half with two buckets apiece.

Tin Mill Held Scoreless

The defense work of the Overland team in the third and fourth quarters was far superior to any shown at the Y. M. C. A. floor this year. The Tin Mill boys were held scoreless from the field for the entire final half of play, while the Overlands on the other hand added sixteen more points to their total.

Cuba, Kirker, Jones and Uhle contributed the majority of the scoring for the Overlands, with Hoyland and Nocera also playing a bangup game. For the Tin Mill the work of Gennock, Lewis and Volesko featured.

The two teams will meet at a later date to settle the championship of the City Industrial League. It has not been definitely decided as yet just how many games will be played in the championship series.

"Hickory" Hetra former Westminster floor star handled the game last night in the capacity of referee and worked a fine game, his work was entirely satisfactory to both teams.

The lineup and summary:

Tin Mill 14		Overlands 35
Gennock	F	Cuba
Zuhowski	F	Nocera
Lewis	C	Kirker
Sumner	G	Jones
Volesko	G	Uhle

Subs — Hoyland, Van Fossan, Mariacher.

Field goals—Gennock, Lewis, Cuba, 2, Nocera, Kirker 3, Van Fossan, Hoyland, Jones 2, Uhle 2.

Fouls—Tin Mill 10 out of 24. Overlands 11 out of 18.

Referee—Hetra, Farrell.

Team Supporters Will Accompany Blue And White

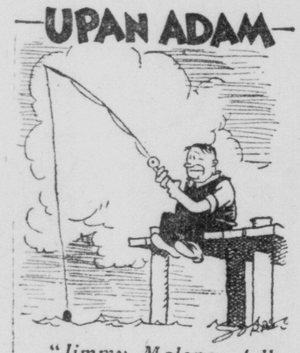

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 8.—Early Tuesday evening, a caravan of motor cars will speed from New Wilmington, carrying Westminster College students, faculty members and many townspeople to Greenville, where the Westminster basketball team will engage Thiel on the Thiel floor.

Seldom has a game abroad attracted such interest at Westminster. This can be accounted for in some measure to the unusual interest displayed all season by Westminster's friends, principally because the team has been winning consistently and playing heads up basketball.

Students will journey to Greenville chiefly in chartered busses while townspeople will go in motor cars. However, a group of citizens have also chartered a bus.

All in all, the United Presbyterian will not lack encouragement in their effort to down the Lutherans.

New Castle People Making Trip To Pittsburgh Assured Of Fine Service

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of senior high school, announced today that arrangements have been made with the Pittsburgh Street Railway Company to have sufficient street cars on hand at the Union depot Friday night to handle the crowd of New Castle patrons who will make the trip to Pittsburgh on the "special train."

The round trip ticket on the "special train" sells for $1.79 with an additional charge of ten cents for the street car ticket. Street car tickets are being sold along with the train tickets.

Tickets for the "special" went on sale at the high school today and also the Sporting Goods Store, Love and Megown's and the Pennsy station.

Tickets for the admission to the games will be 50 cents if they are purchased here in New Castle prior to the trip to Pittsburgh. At the stadium the tickets sell for 75 cents. Admission tickets are on sale at the places mentioned above with the exception of the Pennsy station.

Indications today point to a large crowd following the New Castle team to the W. P. I. A. L. play-off game on Friday night.

Belgian Beats Hoppe In Cue Event, 400-233

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 8.—Edouard Horemans, of Belgium, went into the lead in the world championship 18.2 balkline billiard tournament last night by defeating Willie Hoppe, of New York, present title holder, 400 to 233.

The victory gave the Belgian a top rating of three wins and no defeats. Welker Cochran, of California, and Jake Schoefer, of Chicago, have two victories and no lost matches to their credit. Felix Grange, of France, who yesterday defeated Kinrey Matsupama, of Japan, has won two and lost two, and Erich Hageniacher, of Germany has won one and lost one.

The Belgian was in rare form in last night's match while the champion appeared to be working under constant pressure. After a somewhat discouraging start. Horemans got his noted line nurse into play and in his nine innings succeeded in chalking up an average of 44 4-9 points, and a high run of 134.

Hoppe played eight innings, giving him an average of 29 1-8 points. His high run was 72.

P. & O. Teams To Have Busy Week

With the bowling and basketball teams of the Penn-Ohio League entering upon the final stages of the season's competition for the System's championship, the usual matches will be played this week.

All of the basketball games will be played on Wednesday evening. The Youngstown Office Five will meet New Castle; the Sharon quint will go to Warren to play the team of that district and the P-O Coach and Youngstown Municipal Railway Five will meet at Youngstown.

On Tuesday evening the Municipal Railway bowlers will meet New Castle at New Castle, while Lowellville comes to Youngstown for a match with the P-O Coach Lines representatives. Sharon meets the Youngstown Office team at Youngstown on Friday.

Musketeers Will Play Wampum Cubs

The Musketeers will invade Wampum this evening to try their skill against the highly praised Wampum Cubs. A fast game should be on the program as both teams have been playing a fine brand of basketball. In their last two games the Cubs overcame their jinx by defeating the Tip-Tops and the Liberty Five, both New Castle teams.

This game will start at 7:15 and will be played as a preliminary to the Independent game.

Several years ago the Boston College hockey team boasted of a star goaltender, Luke Urban, who could not skate.

What Becomes of Rookies? Well Here's One's Story

By NORMAN E. BROWN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8.—Every spring the big league clubs present to the fans a new troupe of youngsters, set on the high road to fame by the enthusiastic reports of the scouts. And later every spring most of these same hopeful rookies trek for home, with the clippings of the glowing stories about them tucked in their suitcases.

What becomes of those who can't fill the bill?

Well, as I mingle with the jolly ball players down here, there comes word of the present whereabouts of one—and he's moving along quite well, thank you.

The young man is Glenn Killinger.

Makes Big League Debut

Those of us who were hobnobbing with the ball clubs in the spring of 1922 recall him as a rookie with the New York Yankees.

Football fans will remember him as one of the great backfield men produced at Penn State several years ago. Glenn was captain of the Penn State team in 1921. For two years he played halfback and two years was at quarter. All told he won 10 varsity letters in sports. He played freshman and varsity basketball four years and baseball four seasons. Over a span of 157 games in which Killinger played the team lost but 16 games.

Killinger himself felt that his forte was football and planned to enter the coaching ranks. His work as an infielder, however, had drawn the attention of the Yankee scouts and was signed for a tryout in the spring of 1922. His hitting showed promise. His last season's record in college was something like .347.

He lacked experience, however, and was sent to Jersey City. He has remained in minor league ball ever since.

Doesn't Desert Football

He held to his first love—football—through his baseball days, however. After his graduation he accepted the post of football coach at Dickinson College and the next year returned to Penn State to help Hugo Bezdek.

Now, as the new brand of baseball rookies begin to show their wares and ignorance of high powered baseball in the southern camps, Killinger accepts the post of the head coach of football at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, N. Y. He'll play baseball this summer as usual. But football is his game.

Eastern Horsemen Expect Victory In Kentucky Derby This Spring

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—For the first time since 1923, it looks like an Eastern year on the historic Downs outside Louisville where the Kentucky Derby is run annually, or at least so aver the horsemen from this section. An Eastern colt is due, for one thing, according to the law of averages: for another, the West had a particularly unimpressive crop of two-year-olds in 1926.

The law of average thing will win for you sooner or later but its uncertainty is best illustrated by the fact that no one knows how soon or how late. It is predicted, in this case, on the fact that the last Eastern victories in the Derby were registered by Morvich in 1922 and by Zev the following year. In 1924 Mrs. Hoots Black Gold, from Oklahoma was the winner. Gifford A. Cochran's Flying Ebony won from a "nickle" field in 1925 while last year the West in general and E. R. Bradley in particular scored even more heavily than usual when Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage ran one-two.

So much for mere jugglery of data. For my non-essential part, I'd prefer to base a conclusion, if any of a sectional victory on the comparative records of the 1926 two-year-old. The Eastern field proved to be unusually good, the Western less than ordinary.

Logical favorites when the winter books open, for example, will be Osmond, of the Widener stable, and Scapa Flow, son of Man o' War. Both are Eastern horses.

Of course, the race is an open one at this early stage of the proceedings, as always, but the point is that any one of the first dozen of random contenders also hail from this section. Offhand, I can name General Lee, Rip Rap, Valorus and Whiskery, of the Whitney string; Sinclair's Sweepster, Cheops and Sankari; Willie K. Dolan, Northland, Fair Star, Bonnie McGinn, Jopagen, Terry and Candy Queen as high class contenders at this writing. There isn't a western horse among them.

Still, it looked like an Eastern year in 1925. And what happened? Nearly every favorite in the race blew up, either before or after the start, and Earl Sande's superb horsemanship brought Flying Ebony down in front. This came to be regarded as an equine miracle after it was proved that Flying Ebony wasn't even a near-champion.

Can a miracle be re-enacted in the brief interval of two years? Eastern horsemen contend that only something of the kind can prevent their section from scoring this time.

San Francisco In Boxing Revival; Plans Developing Local Talent

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8—"I believe San Francisco can become once more a great boxing center," said Willie Ritchies, former lightweight boxing champion. "We can turn the trick by developing local talent. When good local boys build themselves up to near-championship pretensions and accumulate strong personal following then we can bring in champions from the outside for title bouts. The people in New York—they'll pay any price to see the best.

Ritchie believes that if the attraction is great the customers will naturally follow.

"We have over a million people living within two hours' travel of San Francisco the former promoter explained. "And we can draw heavy gates if the boxers have strong followings."

Between 1900 and 1914, Ritchie said, San Francisco was the Mecca of the boxing profession.

"Nearly every championship fight—there were only one or two exceptions—was fought right here in San Francisco." the former lightweight champion declared. "It was the only place in the country where decision bouts were permitted. Now, however, fights to a decision are allowed in New York, Chicago and other big cities, but I believe the time is near when San Francisco can compete with eastern cities for championship bouts."

The long lean years when four-round bouts were the limit have not hurt boxing in California, according to Ritchie. One change, however has been effected. In the old 20 rounds or more period, the fans were content and satisfied with scientific boxing. Now, after a long regimen of short bouts, the customers want action and plenty of it. Even now that the 10-round game has returned, Ritchie said, the patrons want lots of slam and bang in their fights.

Ritchie, who held the lightweight title from 1912 to 1914, taking it from Ad Wolgast in San Francisco and dropping it to Freddy Walsh in London, is tempted sometimes to go back in the ring. He is now a promoter.

"When I read about old Mike McTigue coming back and knocking out Paul Berlenbach," Ritchie said, 'I feel moved to get out my skipping ropes and punching bag and try to come back myself."

Rhyne Showing Form At Second Base

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 8.—Hal Rhyne, who played second base last year for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was figured by the experts today to have a good chance of holding down that bag the coming season against the competition of his fellow-Californian, Joe Cronin. In cavorting about the training camp before the critical eye of Manager Bush, Rhyne seems to be doing a more finished job of fielding than Cronin.

The Pirates, who need a lead-off batter, ought to give the job to Herman Layne, in the opinion of camp critics. Layne, who registered from Toronto of the International league, aspires for the position of left fielder. He is fast on the bases and bats right-handed.

Methodists Defeat Gerson Imperials

Methodist Passers Get Jump On Imperials In Race For Title

The First Methodist team defeated the Gerson Imperials by a score of 41 to 28 in the first game of the championship series to decide the church league winners. The game was played Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. floor as a preliminary to the Tin Mill-Rick-Overland game.

The Methodists were behind the first quarter 7 to 6, but rallied somewhat in the second quarter to take the lead 11 to 10 at the end of the first half. The Methodists staged a rally in the third and fourth quarters that swept the Imperials off their stride and it was not long until the Methodist team had a comfortable lead. S. Lockley with six baskets in the final half led the attack for the winners, with Offutt following closely with four buckets.

A. Plant and Rieve had four field goals apiece for the Imperials. The Imperials went to pieces in the final half of the battle.

The game was the first of a three game series to determine the championship. The Methodists won the first half of the season race with the Imperials capturing the final half of the schedule. The Methodists need one more victory to cinch the title.

The Athletics held a lead of 12 to 6 at the end of the first half. The Hearts came back strong in the closing chapters to nose out their one-point victory.

Venditto with four baskets was the big gun for the Sacred Hearts, while DiThomas and Panella also played good basketball. For the Athletics the work of Vago and Paulini was the best.

The lineup and summary:

Tunney And Dempsey May Battle Again

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, March 8.—Backstairs gossip, persisting these many months, broke out afresh today concerning an alleged plan by Tex Rickard to repeat with Tunney and Dempsey for the heavyweight championship in September, regardless of what may transpire, if anything, during the course of the promoter's heavyweight tournament. The story first saw the light of day when Rickard began matching Maloney with the Dieners, De Kuhs Perssons and what not, it being the contention then that Dempsey would step in when all other contenders had thoroughly eliminated themselves.

The situation has altered in the meantime but the contention hasn't. Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney alone remain as plausible candidates and now they say that this pair will manage to get rid of each other when they meet some time the latter part of May.

The big idea here is that Maloney and Sharkey, lacking a real punch, naturally will flounder through fifteen rounds, causing the populace to become very distrait. In consequence, it will go away from there, thinking of Dempsey as the man he once was and everything will be all to the attar of roses.

Off hand, I would say that, if Rickard ever entertained any plan of this kind, he was taking plenty for granted and that sort of thing is not the old boy's motif. Suppose, for example, Sharkey knocked Maloney over in the first minute of play, or vice versa. Rickard then would have a first class challenger on his hands and all his alleged plans for Dempsey couldn't get rid of the gent.

Rickard today was in receipt of a telegram from Dempsey in which the ex-champ stated that he no longer was troubled by blood poisoning in his arm and that he would "get to work right away." He informed the promoter that he would reveal his plans in greater detail within a few days. It is evident that Jack and the promoter have some sort of an understanding. It remains to be seen whether Dempsey will make a belated entry into Rickard's elimination tournament, or hold off for a match with Tunney.

Pittsburgh Baseball Fans Place Hope For Pennant On Pitchers

By CARL L. TURNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Mar. 8. — While the Pittsburgh Pirates limber up in Sunny California, the home folks from behind snowdrifts are doing much speculating as to their favorites' chances of copping the National League bunting in 1927.

The concensus here is that as the pitchers go so will the Pirates' chances, with much depending upon the way Manager Donie Bush takes over the reins dropped by "Bill" McKechnie.

In the outfield the Pirates are well fortified with a hard-hitting trio and plenty of reserve material for which the Pittsburgh aggregation has become noted.

The infield is expected to pass the test, with the possible exception of second base. "Pie" Traynor, on third, is commonly rated the league's best third-sacker, and Grantham at first is no novice, but the Buccaneers have no outstanding keystone guardian and they apparently made no great effort to obtain one during the winter trading.

Shortstop is well filled by Glenn Wright, the Archie, (Mo.) "Black Spot," who in his few years in the major league has come to be recognized as a worthy successor to the immortal "Hans" Wagner.

Backstopping will be ably handled by "Oil" Smith, Johnny Gooch and Roy Spencer, with Smith, a former Giant, again doing the heavy. The Pirates have three other young backstops who probably will be farmed out soon after the season opens.

Just what will become of Spencer, a Norfolk boy, is a live topic for discussion by local fans. Although Spencer, in the few times McKechnie permitted him to play, clearly demonstrated his big league caliber with hard hitting and fine work behind the plate, it seems that he is in for another season on the bench unless misfortune befalls Smith or Gooch.

As for pitchers, Manager Bush has Ray Kremer, his ace; Joe Bush, Vic Aldridge, Lee Meadows, Johnny Morrison, Emil Yde, Don Songer, Carmen Hill and Mike Cvengros for first-stringers.

Kremer, Aldridge, Meadows and Aldridge, right-handers, are counted upon to win many games, and Songer, a southpaw from Kansas City, earned considerable prestige last season before he injured his flinging arm.

With the pitchers rests the destiny of the Pirates, in the belief of most Pittsburgh fans.

Holdouts Must Pay For Their Meals

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—The "food cure" is to be administered to holdouts at the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

"If a player can sign his name at the bottom of a dinner check, he can also sign at the bottom of a contract," Miller Huggins explained in announcing that lunch would not be served to holdouts.

Who the holdouts were Huggins would not say, although Herb Pennock and Bob Meusel are known to be on the list. Several other Yankees also are suspected of determined salary designs.

Falcons To Meet Christian Quintet

The Polish Falcons will clash with the fast Central Christian team tonight at the Falcon court. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The Christians boast of a strong team and they are out to defeat the Polish tossers tonight. The Falcons to date have had a fine success on the hardwood winning fourteen out of seventeen games. The Falcons lost to the Delmars of Beaver Falls, Marcella Grocers, and Peerless A. C. of New Castle.

The Falcon players are asked to report at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the club rooms.

Ben Franklin Five Has Record Year

Lose Final Tilt To Zelienople; Franklin In Possession Of Junior High Championship

The final curtain for the Ben Franklin basketball year is down, indicating the close of the season, while behind the scenes one would find many instances of stellar performances on the part of the school quintet. The season was closed when the strong Zelienople five defeated the locals 18-16 after four quarters of fast and furious play on the Zelienople floor Saturday night.

Coach Norton has been well pleased with the showing made by his five, and feels that the team should be complimented, not only for its excellent record of games won, but for the fine sportsmanship carried throughout the season.

Captain "Bill" Johns, who was also a football star of true blue, was high scorer for the quintet. He was a consistent player in every game and will be the nucleus of next year's material.

Stewart and Beres, alternating at center, have shown both offensive and defensive ability which gave such guards as Shook, Zinz, and Ciccone, a run for honors.

Out of twenty-one games played the Franklin lads "brought home the bacon" for seventeen. Of the four they lost, three of these were by a two or one point margin.

As a team in the Junior High School League, Franklin won eight victories straight, coming through the season with a clean record. Norton used his second team in most of these games, thus giving more boys a chance to earn one of the coveted letters. Twelve lads have qualified for the award which will be made at an early date.

The seasons record for the five follows:

Ben Franklin 46, Union High School 12.
Ben Franklin 29, Sophomores 18.
Ben Franklin 17, Mahoningtown 1.
Ben Franklin 15, Mt. Jackson High School 14.
Ben Franklin 28, North Street 11.
Ben Franklin 22, Bessemer High School 29.
Ben Franklin 42, Mahoningtown 4.
Ben Franklin 21, North Street 11.
Ben Franklin 20, Butler Seniors 16.
Ben Franklin 20, Zelienople High School 14.
Ben Franklin 20, North Street 2.
Ben Franklin 15, Mt. Jackson High School 16.
Ben Franklin 19, Sharon Reserves 21.
Ben Franklin 20, Mahoningtown 4.
Ben Franklin 33, Franklin Reserves 10.
Ben Franklin 29, Union High School 13.
Ben Franklin 20, North Street 5.
Ben Franklin 30, Bessemer High School 15.
Ben Franklin 25, Mahoningtown 4.
Ben Franklin 16, Zelienople High School 18.

Ben Franklin scored 487 points to their opponents 238.

Westminster Has Chance For Second

Westminster and Thiel will bring to a formal close the 1926-27 tristate conference season with a game in Greenville tonight. The game is an important one. If Westminster wins, they'll go into a tie for second place. If Thiel wins they will end up just a few points below Geneva in sixth place. At any rate, there is a lot of rivalry between the two schools and a fine ball game is assured.

Hargrave To Captain Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI, Mar. 8.—Eugene (Bubbles) Hargrave, holdout Red catcher, signed a contract for this year at the offices of the Cincinnati Reds. He will receive $11,000 a year, an increase of $1,000. When the Reds left for Orlando, Hargrave returned his contract unsigned, demanding $15,000 a year. He will be made captain of the Reds, to succeed Eddie Roush.

The Giants' Leaders

By Feg Murray

Twenty-five years is a long time, no matter how you look at it, and here is good old John McGraw entering into his silver-jubilee year as manager of the New York Giants. "The first quarter of a century is the hardest", one might imagine "Mac" saying, as he glanced with pride over his record since July, 1902, when he took over the reins of the New York National League ball club. His friends will tell you how he has won ten pennants with the Giants in that stretch of time, but his enemies will retort, "Yes, and he's lost seven world series".

But John McGraw is certainly one of the greatest baseball managers of all time, and as a player, in the old days with the Baltimore Orioles, did much to introduce the tactics and strategy that have been fixtures in the game of baseball ever since. McGraw was one of the pioneers of the game, and now we find his 120 pounds and his salary of $60 a month increased to nearly 200 pounds and over $65,000 a year. The old fighting spirit is still there, but the nickname "Muggsy" has disappeared, giving way to a respectful "Mac" or "Mr. McGraw".

What are the Giants' chances of winning another pennant to celebrate their leader's 25th anniversary? Look at the line-up pictured above and see if they are not very good? A new box office attraction is Rogers Hornsby, who should seriously threaten Ruth's claim to the title of the "Idol of New York". Three fine new outfielders have been added in Roush, Harper and LeBourveau. Burleigh Grimes should bring new kick to the pitching staff, and with the hard-hitting Bill Terry playing regularly at first, the Giants seem almost sure of the 1927 National League pennant. (Echoes from Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, etc.—"Razzberry!")

Scores Two Holes In One On Single Round

VANCOUVER, B. C., Mar. 8.—Holes in one are rather common these days, but two aces in the same round is decidedly out of the ordinary. K. Tanaka, local golfer, shot the pair of singletons on the Langara course at South Vancouver. His iron shot on the 115-yard fifth found the cup and nine holes later he sank his 210-yard tee shot.

Training Camps

(International News Service)

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 8.—A squad of the Athletics travel to Sarasota today to play the Giants. Other players remaining in camp, including Ty Cobb, will attend the daily drill sessions. Gray, Walberg, Quinn and Shores are scheduled to do the hurling in today's game. The Giants come here tomorrow for a return game.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 8.—Five Phillies were still missing from the training camp today. The Yannigans defeated the regulars, 8 to 6, in the first practice game this season. Barney Friberg's homer and his playing at third base were the features of the game.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 8.—The Pirates turned to sliding practice today, with Paul Waner, outfielder, on the crippled list after an injury to his knee. Open season on homers was declared at the spring camp when Claude Linton and Boots Grantham, members of the Pirate shock troop, each slammed a four-bagger at the training park.

SHREVEPORT, La.—Roger Peckinpaugh and Aaron Ward, infielders joined the White Sox today. Manager Ray Schalk now has his regular infield intact.

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND, Cal.—Elwood English, high-priced shortstop purchased from Toledo, is attracting attention in the Cubs' camp today. Manager Joe McCarthy is pleased with English, who covers a lot of territory, has a fine throwing arm, and is a clean fielder.

TAMPA, Fla.—The Senators were seeking revenge today on the Braves for the trimming administered Saturday. Tris Speaker was due to break into the lineup of the Nats for the first time in today's game. Rookies will do the pitching on both sides.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Sherrod Smith, left handed hurler for the Cleveland Indians last season, is expected to sign a 1927 contract with the Tribe today. He has been holding out for higher salary but has decided to join the team making the trip to Orlando today where two games are scheduled with the Cincinnati Reds—one today and one tomorrow.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Heartened by news that Bubbles Hargrave had signed, and the arrival in camp of Wally Pipp, the Red regulars trounced the Yannigans 10 to3 in a full nine inning game, and were all set for the first real practice clash this afternoon with the Cleveland Indians.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Moriarty's clouters are hitting the ball far and wide. Heilman, Manush, Fothergill and Wingo are giving fine exhibitions of batting. The board of strategy is about sold on Charlie Sullivan, pitcher, who starred with the Forth Worth team last year.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Having slaughtered the St. Louis Browns 13 to 1, the Giants today play an exhibition game with the Athletics. Hornsby led the hitters with two doubles and a single while "Bevo" Lebourveau polled a homer and a single in his debut with the Giants.

AVON PARK, Fla.—The University of Florida nine invaded the Cardinal camp today to play the regulars. The same line-up, with the exception of the battery, that downed the recruits yesterday 10 to 1, will face the Collegians.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The Yankees were to play their first practice game of the season today. Herman Ruth, the noted financier, got into a uniform yesterday and immediately lifted three new baseballs into the right field swamp. Three regulars—Meusel, Coombs and Pennock—have not yet reported.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Old Bill Doak, the bald-headed spitball pitcher who is essaying a comeback with the Brooklyn Robins, is proving that there's still life in the old soup bone. In his initial workout, Doak retired seven men with only one hit.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla.—Smarting under the stinging defeat which the Giants handed them, the St. Louis Browns were to meet the Buffalo club of the International League here today. New York won yesterday's game 13 to 1.

MEADVILLE CENTENARIAN DIES

MEADVILLE, Pa., Mar. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Coolidge, centenarian, died in the home of her only remaining child, Mrs. Ray Brown, in Harmonsburg, near here. Mrs. Coolidge celebrated her one hundredth birthday anniversary last November.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

IN BASEBALL LAND, March 8.—In Richard Haynes Wykoff, pitching rookie, the Cincinnati Reds have one of the most versatile young men dug up in the minors at least within the memory of Jack Hendricks, Redleg manager. And Hendricks has been managing teams in every class of organized baseball around thirty years.

Wykoff comes to the Reds as a pitcher from the Salina, Kan., team of the Southwestern league.

And here are some of the things for which the records give Mr. Wykoff credit for the 1926 season with that club:

Won 25 and lost 6 games as a pitcher.

Led the league in percentage of games won, figuring the hurlers who won 15 or more games.

Ranked second in strikeouts with 140.

Played in 11 games as an outfielder.

Played in 12 as a second baseman.

Played in 30 as a third baseman.

Ranked second in batting in the league, with a .380 average in a total of 96 games.

Led the league in home runs with 28.

All of which played an important part in the winning of the league pennant by Salina.

It was Wykoff's second year with the club. His home's in Osborne, Kan., which gives that state plenty of claim to him.

Another young hurler on whom Hendricks has an eagle eye is Peter Jablonowski, drafted from the Waterbury club of the Eastern league. Jablonowski is probably better known about the Western college conference than he is to professional baseball fans. He pitched for the University of Michigan team for three years and two of those three years they won the Big Ten title.

He won 6 games and lost 1 his first year, as he recalls it; won 2 and lost 3 the next year, and last season won 6 and lost 2.

* * *

And speaking of pitchers, Jean Dubuc, who once hurled for the Detroit Tigers and managed the Manchester club in the New England league last season, sends Clyde Sukeforth, an infielder, back to the Reds with the tipoff that he has learned a lot of baseball and is ready for a thorough test. He'll get it, too, especially if Horace Ford or Hughie Critz fall by the wayside in some way.

Wampum Cubs Top Liberty Passers

The Wampum Cubs nosed out the strong Liberty Five 37 to 29 in an extra five minute period game played on the Wampum Opera House floor.

The game was close and hard fought in all quarters. At the end of the first half the Cubs were leading 15 to 4. The New Castle boys came to life in the final half of the battle and held a lead until the final thirty seconds of play when Blythe dropped through a marker that deadlocked the count at 29-29.

In the extra five-minute period the Wampum boys ran wild to score eight points and to hold the locals scoreless. For Wampum the playing of Blythe was the feature of the game, the tall lanky center caging six baskets, Ferrucci ran a close second for scoring honors with five buckets. White also played a good game for the winners. The work of Solomon, Jenkins, and Roher was the best for the Liberty Five.

The lineup and summary:

Wampum Cubs 37		Liberty Five 29
White	F.	Solomon
J. Ferrucci	F.	Roher
Blythe	C.	Parker
Ferrucci	G.	Tino
Pacielli	G.	Jenkins

Sub—Hildebrand.

Field goals—Blythe 6, J. Ferrucci 5, White 4, Jenkins 4, Solomon, 3, Roher 2, Ferrucci, Parker.

Fouls—Wampum 4 out of 15. Liberty Five 9 out of 14.

Referee—Boone.

TRAFFIC TYDOL GASOLINE IS HANDLED HERE

SUTTON GASOLINE CO., AFTER CLOSE INVESTIGATION WILL DISTRIBUTE IT.

Announcement is made by Sutton Gasoline Co., of a new acquisition to their well known line of petroleum products through which they have served the motoring public for the past 18 years.

The new Traffic Tydol Gasoline, recently placed upon the market by the Tide Water Oil Co., Manufacturers of the famous Veedol Oils, has reached this community and will be distributed over Lawrence, Beaver, and Butler Counties by Sutton Gasoline Co.

Mr. Sutton said today "After several months of the closest investigation, we have decided to distribute through our own Pumps and our Wholesale Outlets, the new Traffic Tydol. This decision was reached when it was shown to us that with the new Million Dollar Equipment at the Tide Water Refinery, Bayoone, New Jersey, a product of the highest quality was being manufactured. Our own tests show that the new Gasoline is superior to the ordinary Motor Gasoline, and in many respects to the so-called premium Motor Fuel now being sold at greater cost to the consumer."

Mr. Sutton's announcement will be of great interest to the motorists of this section, who will be pleased to know that this splendid new Gasoline will be available at all Stations with Sutton and Tydol Globes on their pumps.

Users in other sections where the new Tydol is being marketed are high in their praise of its qualitifications and predict an enormous sale in this vicinity.

P.A.

and a pipe

—that's my dish!

I COULDN'T ask for more. Prince Albert gives me everything I want in a smoke. It is fragrant, delightfully fragrant . . . both in the tidy red tin, and as I smoke it in my old jimmy-pipe. It is cool and sweet as an orange just off the ice. Refreshing!

If there's one thing more than any other which I like about this grand old tobacco, it is its mildness . . . mildness that is balanced, however, by a full, rich body that satisfies my smoke-taste all the way down. It was this rare combination of mildness and tobacco-body that won me to P. A. right off the bat.

I can't give you the complete picture, for taste is a thing that must be experienced. But I feel so sure that you will enjoy P. A. as you never enjoyed any other tobacco, that I am telling you, here and now, to buy a tidy red tin and get started. You can't lose, Men.

Thousands of pipe-smokers who thought they were all set have taken similar advice. They've agreed that it was worth the experiment. Today they are among the millions of P. A. regulars . . . the most contented bunch of pipe-smokers in the world. Come on in—the smoking's fine.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Ram "Manassas."

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE CONFEDERATE RAM "MANASSAS", COMMANDED BY CAPTAIN WARLEY, WAS IN THE THICKEST OF THE FIGHTING IN THE BATTLE WITH FARRAGUT'S FLEET ON THE MISSISSIPPI BELOW NEW ORLEANS (APRIL 24, 1862). COMMANDER PORTER, ONE OF THE UNION NAVAL LEADERS, IN HIS ACCOUNT OF THE ENGAGEMENT, SPEAKS OF THE "MANASSAS" AS "A TROUBLESOME CUSTOMER AT ALL TIMES."

HAVING RAMMED, THOUGH NOT DISABLED, BOTH THE UNION STEAMERS "BROOKLYN" AND "MISSISSIPPI" IN THE FIGHT, WHEN DAYLIGHT CAME THE "MANASSAS" WAS THE ONLY CONFEDERATE CRAFT THAT STILL OPPOSED THE ADVANCE OF THE FEDERAL FLEET UPON NEW ORLEANS.

SIGNALS WERE DISPLAYED FROM THE FLAGSHIP FOR THE "MISSISSIPPI" TO RUN DOWN THE RAM AND UNDER FULL STEAM THE LARGER VESSEL CHARGED AT THE "MANASSAS". THE RAM NIMBLY DODGED THE BLOW, BUT IN DOING SO RAN HARD AGROUND. HER CREW WAS FORCED TO ABANDON HER AND ESCAPED ASHORE, WHILE THE "MISSISSIPPI" RIDDLED THE STRANDED VESSEL WITH HER BROADSIDES.

FEDERAL SAILORS THEN BOARDED THE RAM AND SET HER AFIRE. FLOATING OFF THE SHOAL, THE "MANASSAS" DRIFTED DOWN THE RIVER AMONG THE UNION MORTAR BOATS, WHERE BEFORE LONG, AND AFTER A FAINT EXPLOSION ON BOARD, SHE SANK.

TOMORROW—FARRAGUT REACHES NEW ORLEANS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—The downward price movement of the leading specuative stocks was accelerated in the early trading today by an outpouring of speculative selling, based on the increase of $117,673,000 in brokers' loans in February, as reported by the New York Stock Exchange governors.

A number of the well-known industrial and motor stocks lost a point or two at the opening, after which the downward move was extended to as much as 4 points in the high-priced speculative leaders.

Further weakness was also displayed by the oil stocks. Marland Oil, Pure Oil, Mid Continent and other popular independent oils sold lower, while Standard of New York returned to the low price of the year at 31⅝, and Standard of New Jersey broke through to 37½, a new 1927 low.

Wabash and Kansas City Southern displayed conspicuous weakness in the speculative rail group. New Haven was under pressure, but the dividend rails put up a strong resistance to bearish selling, and prices were fairly steady. Steel and copper stocks were inactive rather than weak, as also were many of the new favorites in the specialties, tobaccos and sugars. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent.

Political Leaders Cast Eyes On Texas; Court Upholds Negro Vote

Supreme Court Avoids Direct Expression On Congressional Power

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 8.—The power of congress to regulate senatorial primaries remained in doubt today despite the supreme court's action in holding unconstitutional the Texas law denying negroes the right to participate in Democratic primaries there.

This was the concensus among constitutional authorities in the senate after a study of the court's decision. They declared the court had avoided a direct expression on the power of congress to lay down rules for the conduct of primaries, thus throwing the question back into the field of political discussion. At some time in the future, they said, the issue probably will be decided directly but only after congress has enacted a new law attempting to control the primaries.

"The decision fails to state whether congress has the power or lacks the power to legislate on primaries" observed Senator Thomas J. Walsh, D., of Montana, one of the senate's best-known constitutional authorities. "It simply forbids the states from making any discriminatory election laws."

A similar opinion was held by Senator David A. Reed, R., of Pennsylvania, who has frequently maintained that congress had no power to reguate primaries.

"The supreme court did not act on the question of congressional power to regulate primaries," said Reed. "The decision has no more effect on that question than if the court had held unconstitutional a Texas law forbidding negroes to operate stage coaches."

The loophole seen by some senators, who refrained from being quoted, was the enactment of a law giving each major party the authority to regulate its own primaries. This would place the political parties on the same basis as a lodge and the party then could enact regulations, prohibiting negroes from joining it.

Whether a major party would take so drastic a step as to drive all negroes from its ranks can only be answered by the future. Political leaders from all sections meanwhile will watch the Texas democracy for the next step.

Believe Wisconsin Slayer Is Suicide

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 8.—Peter Connors, head of the homicide squad of the Pittsburgh police, today awaited word from Chicago, where he sent a revolver found by the body of a youth here whose description, Connors said, tallied with that of Erdman Olson, Prarie Du Chien, Wisconsin, farmer's son wanted in connection with the death of his sweetheart there. The youth committed suicide in a rooming house.

The revolver was purchased in Chicago, Connors said, and through authorities there he hopes to learn something of the man who bought it.

No word has been received here from Wisconsin officials, Connors said, after he notified them the youth's description was the same as that of Olson.

Better English Clubs Are Showing Result In School

Clubs Organized In Martin Gantz School Continued In Junior High

Improvement in the English of the students has been noticed as well as good training for pupils in speaking bofore an audience has been accomplished by the Better English clubs organized in the Martin Gantz school in grades 5 and 6.

A club has been organized in each of the four divisions of grades 5 and 6. Each club elects a president and secretary and all the work of the club is conducted by the pupils under the leadership of their officers.

Miss Evelyn Spencer supervising teacher of the school has the supervision of the work of the clubs although a great amount of the work is done by the two practice teachers from Slippery Rock State Normal school, Miss Margaret Reed and Miss Sarah Keister.

Every week the club meets and a program which has been arranged by a program committee is given. The program committee have taken great care to see that each child is given an equal chance to participate in the activities of the club. The program consists of poems, stories and three pupils give little talks each week. This last week one child gave a very interesting talk on "How we Get Our Sponges."

After the program is given criticism of the parts taken are given by the children under the supervision of the teacher. Thus improvement is encouraged from time to time. Miss Spencer says that decided improvement has been noted in the English of the pupils and especially has benefit been gained in conducting oneself before an audience.

So enthusiastic were the pupils of the sixth grade of the clubs that although they had only one semester of it in the Martin Gantz school when they entered the seventh grade in the North street Junior high school they of their own initiative asked that they might continue the work there and similar clubs have been organized there.

No New Test For Driver's License

Pennsylvania highway patrolmen, stationed here, today said that providing there is not a lapse of a year in taking out driver's license, no examination is necessary. It had been reported here that persons who had not sent in application for 1927 licenses before February 28, would be compelled to undergo another test.

Persons who had 1926 drivers' licenses and who did not yet send in, or who have not yet received their cards will not have to take the test. However, providing they had 1925 licenses but did not take any out for 1926, they will have to take a test to drive a car this year, it was explained.

SPRING MILLINERY

You Are Cordially Invited to Attend This Presentation of

New Hats for Spring 1927

Continuing Throughout the Week

Spring has come to the millinery department having put on its festive dress for the gala occasion.

You are certain to get inspiration for your new Spring Hat. The displays are so varied—so rich in fashion suggestion that you won't want to miss it.

Authentic New Modes in Such Famous Hats as

Fisk—Blossom—Biltmore—Aerial
Gage—Catalina—Amster—Hart

Satin and straw combine in many little hats that have fluted ribbon for trimming, and are ever so chic because they are exceedingly simple.

Leghorn hats and also milans come in capeline versions, their sweeping brims vastly becoming to youth. In natural color, bound and banded in grosgain.

Palaymar hats that will hug shingled heads ever so closely frequently have black and golden brown velvet for trimming. Their crowns are smartly creased or dimpled.

Chouquette, a very tight crocheted straw, resembles silk fabric in its sheen and suppleness. Chouquette hats are rippled and dented and draped to achieve great becomingness.

"Degrade" is popular in hats as in garments, and ribbons of three different tones of a color often trim the most attractive of small chapeaux.

Helmet shapes are numerous in assortments for spring and they are hats that one can imagine round-faced girls wearing beautifully. In crocheted straw.

Westminster To End Season At Thiel Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 8.—Westminster College will bring its cage season to an end Tuesday evening when Thiel is played at Greenville, in a Tri-State Conference game, and incidentally the last chapter in the collegiate basketball career of Captain Hugh Gamble of Sharon, will be written.

Westminsterites have a sense of insecurity as they consider the possible outcome of the contest. This feeling is especially unnerving when it is considered what a victory will mean. Westminster's Conference record shows five victories and four defeats. Another win will give Westminster a tie for second place with Waynesburg. A defeat will send the blue and white down to a third place tie with Geneva.

Thiel is feared. Westminster makes no bones about this. Any team that could give Duquesne a terrific battle one evening and then follow this up by defeating Waynesburg at Waynesburg, has power. With the added advantage of playing on their own floor, Westminster is certain to find the going tough.

Coach John Lawther is uncertain as to his starting lineup. O'Donovan and Delehunti, freshmen forwards, have been giving Crowell and Connor, regular forwards, all kinds of opposition of late. Either or both may start. Capt. Gamble will be at center. Lewis, Ayres and McQuiston will probably split the guard duties.

Westminster fans will regret the passing of Capt. Gamble. This has been his first year as varsity material, but his services have been invaluable. In practically every game, he obtained the tip-off consistently and this was a mighty aid in the Westminster campaigning. He is the only Westminster regular to graduate, the others being under-classmen.

Safe Now When Others Come Close!

The Secret of Keeping a Perspiring Body Sweet

Do you know why thousands of people who never have to take a laxative, do eat a candy cascaret now and then?

They have found that cascara sweetens the whole system—brings an immaculacy of person that means everything. It prevents bodily chemistry from ever making one unconsciously offensive to others. And what a perfect regulator of the bowels!

Salts affect the lining of the bowels. Mineral oils leave a coating that the blood must carry off through the pores. How much better to cascarize the system, and cause the bowels to expel everything by normal muscular contraction! To say nothing of the cleaner, sweeter condition that lasts for days—a wholesome condition that makes the use of deodorants quite unnecessary in January or July! Men and women whose years have brought on sluggishness often find that a cascaret only once a week is all the tonic they needed.

Cascara is splendid for children, too, and they love the taste of this candy laxative which every drugstore has for 10c and 25c.

"ONE DANCE used to undo all my precautions for personal daintiness. All waste in my system seemed to come out through the pores. Today, I don't worry; I keep clean all through, with just occasional use of—

Father John's Medicine
For Colds and Body Building

After using Father John's Medicine for years, Mrs. Leon Vermette, who lives at the corner of Walton and Clifton Streets, Fitchburg, Mass., says: "It has been a great help for coughs and colds and is very good for strengthening the children. It has been a success where others have failed for my babies. I give it to the children when they have a cough or cold or to build them up."

The strengthening food elements in Father John's Medicine are so scientifically combined that they are easily taken up and made into new flesh and strength by children or older people who are weakened and run down. It has proved its value by more than 70 years' success as a body builder and in the treatment of colds and throat troubles.

Irish Courts Settle Illinois Estate Claims

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, March 8.—The nephews and neices of Joseph Veage, of Rathfryland, County Down, have been declared heirs-at-law to one-third of the estate of Jefferson Doyle, who died intestate in Farmer County, Illinois, in February 1923 leaving an estate worth between $250,000 and $300,000.

Jefferson Doyle, who was born at Hilltown, County Down, eloped as an apprentice with his master's daughter and, sailing to the United States, settled in Illinois and prospered there.

Legal fights over his estate has lasted for four years and involved sixty law courts with commissions on four continents. Originally there were over five-hundred claimants to the estate.
